

CEHD Insider - November 2015

College, Alumni, Student News, and Special Events

CEHD News

CEHD Faculty Publish Second 'Horrible Bosses' Article

Brad Shuck, Kevin Rose, and Matt Bergman, Assistant Professors in the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development, published a second article about the negative consequences of working for a dysfunctional leader. The article titled, "Inside the spiral of dysfunction: The personal consequences of working for a dysfunctional leader," appears in the current issue of New Horizons in Adult Education & Human Resource Development, and focuses on how employees can overcome the wounds of working for dysfunctional leaders. Read the full article... <http://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/10.1002/nha3.20122/abstract>.

Drs. Rose, Shuck, and Bergman will also be interviewed on Mark Hebert's radio show, 93.9 FM The Ville, Nov 11th. Podcasts are available at, <https://soundcloud.com/uofl>.

Mayor Tours CSP at Nia Center

Louisville Mayor, Greg Fischer, toured the Cardinal Success Program (CSP) at the Nia Center in late October. Dr. Eugene Foster, Director of CSP, stated that the tour went very well and they discussed the importance of providing improved access to behavioral health services to the West Louisville area. The Mayor congratulated Dr. Foster and his staff on their success and pledged continued support of the CSP from the Louisville Metro Government.

Cumberland to Serve as PE for Buddy Program

Denise Cumberland, Assistant Professor in the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development, will serve as the Program Evaluator (PE) for the Buddy Program. The program is an opportunity for first-year medical students to meet with patients who have Parkinson's disease and gain experience learning about the disease through socialization. The program is a partnership between the School of Medicine and the Parkinson's Support Center of Kentuckiana.

LWP Receives Grant From JCPS

Jean Wolph, Director of the Louisville Writing Project (LWP), has reported that JCPS is funding two LWP projects to improve writing instruction. One of the projects involves Goal Clarity Coaches developing lesson studies with Professional Learning Communities (PLCs) to improve teacher understanding of opinion/argument writing. The other project pairs ESL content area teachers to do the same. Both use an embedded leadership development model that Wolph piloted last spring. She will take a team of LWP teachers to Minneapolis in November to present on the pilot work at the National Writing Project (NWP) annual meeting.

In addition, Wolph will present to the Instructional Coaches Network at the Ohio Valley Education Cooperative (OVEC) in November about writing strategies, argument, and best practices.

Cooper to Serve Second Term on KSA Panel

Justin Cooper, Assistant Professor in the Department of Special Education, has been appointed by the governor to serve a second three-year term on the Kentucky State Advisory Panel for Exceptional Children.

The panel is tasked with advising the governor's office and the Kentucky Department of Education on matters related to the education of persons with disabilities in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

In addition, Dr. Cooper and Dr. Terry Scott, Professor and Associate Dean of Research and Graduate Studies, will be interviewed on Mark Hebert's radio show, 93.9 FM The Ville, November 19th. The topic of discussion will be best practices for addressing behavioral problems in schools; early interventions; enhancing academic success to reduce behavior problems; and school-wide opportunities to provide prevention measures. Podcasts of the show are available at, <http://soundcloud.com/uofl>.

Like us on Facebook:

<http://www.facebook.com/uofleducation>

The University of Louisville is an equal opportunity institution.

Submit Items to the Insider

The CEHD Insider is an internal newsletter designed to inform faculty and staff about college news and events. Information such as research, presentations, publications, awards, conferences, meetings, or special events will be featured in each edition. If you have news to share, please send to dorothy@louisville.edu, or call 502-852-2639.

Laman and Carpenter Elected to GFC

The Committee on Committees for the CEHD conducted a nomination/election process consistent with the Graduate Faculty Council (GFC) policies and has two new CEHD representatives for the council. Tasha Laman, Associate Professor and Director of the Nystrand Center of Excellence in Education, and Bradley Carpenter, Assistant Professor in the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development, will begin their three-year terms immediately and will join Mary Hums, Professor in the Department of Health and Sport Sciences, as representatives.

Sun to Speak at MSU Colloquium

Jeffrey Sun, Professor in the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development, was selected to be the 2015 Raines Colloquium Speaker at Michigan State University (MSU), which was held in October. Dr. Sun's presentation was titled, "An Accessible Approach to Understanding Title IX: Translating Research and Law into Practice," and addresses compliance trends concerning student-to-student sexual assaults on college campuses.

Shuck to Serve as Mentor For GTA Academy

Brad Shuck, Assistant Professor in the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development, was invited to serve as mentor and faculty lead for the GTA Academy. In addition, through an invitation by the Delphi Center and the Office of the Provost, he will present at the Seminar on Teaching for New Faculty. Learn more about the academy... <http://louisville.edu/delphi/programs/2015-16-seminar-on-teaching-for-new-faculty>

Nia Center CSP Hosts Open House Event

The Cardinal Success Program (CSP) Open House event at the Nia Center was a chance for Dr. Eugene Foster, Director of the Program, and Dr. Katy Hopkins, Clinical Assistant Professor, and their staff to showcase the facility, services and support they are providing to residents of West Louisville. A special feature of the Nia Center office is the art that is on display, which is provided by West Louisville artists. WDRB also featured a story about the program. See the video and article...<http://www.wdrb.com/story/30228531/u-of-l-offering-free-counseling-clinic-to-west-louisville-neighbors>

Buskill to Serve on Expert Panel

Roger Buskill, Instructor in the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development, served on an expert panel at the annual Association of Talent Development's National Chapter Leadership Conference in October. The panel addressed succession planning for volunteer board members.

Learn more about the conference... <https://www.td.org/Members/Chapters/Chapter-Leader-Community/Leadership-Development/ALC-New>

Calvert Presents at Ft. Knox

Jan Calvert, Instructor and Coordinator of the CEHD alternative certification program, presented at Ft. Knox about the Troops to Teachers program, which is a component of the Department of Middle and Secondary Education's alternative teacher certification program. The presentation was held at the Ft. Knox Community Information Exchange in October and was attended by over 100 leadership representatives from various U.S. Army units who are interested in second career options after retiring from the service.

KYNT3 Receives Grant that will Benefit SPI Schools

Network to Transform Teaching (NT3) received a $19.4 million grant from the U.S. Department of Education. The grant titled, "Supporting Effective Educator Development," will be distributed over the next three years. Harrie Buecker, Liaison for District and School Partnerships, and member of the Kentucky division of NT3, stated that some of the funding will be used to support our teachers in the Signature Partnership Initiative schools who want to become National Board certification candidates.

Larson and Sharma Host AACTE Webinar

Dean Ann E. Larson and Manish Sharma, Director of Assessment and Education Preparation for the CEHD, were invited to present in October the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE) webinar, "Is Common Core Impossible? Learn How Educator Preparation Providers in Kentucky Successfully Implemented the Standards." They served as representatives for the Kentucky Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (KACTE) as well. The webinar, which was a two-part series, highlighted educator preparation programs in Kentucky that are effectively implementing strategies to develop teachers who are ready to prepare PK-12 students for college- and career-ready standards. How the institutions used a communication strategy, community involvement, policy advancement and alignment, and professional development and capacity building for successful implementation were also discussed.

Submit Items to the Insider

The CEHD Insider is an internal newsletter designed to inform faculty and staff about college news and events. Information such as research, presentations, publications, awards, conferences, meetings, or special events will be featured in each edition. If you have news to share, please send to dorothy@louisville.edu, or call 502-852-2639.

Cooper and Pennington Receive WHAS Grant

Justin Cooper and Rob Pennington, Assistant Professors in the Department of Special Education, received a $21,000 grant from the WHAS11 Crusade for Children. The funding will provide scholarships for students who are pursuing teacher certification in special education while acquiring the advanced skills necessary for improving educational outcomes for students with disabilities.

Jett, Buecker, McGatha Attend Regional IHE Meetings

Pam Jett, Instructor in the Department of Middle and Secondary Education, Harrie Buecker, Liaison for District and School Partnerships, and Maggie McGatha, Associate Professor in the Department of Middle and Secondary Education, attended the Regional Institutes of Higher Education (IHE) meetings, which were hosted by the Collaborative for Teaching and Learning (CTL) along with the Kentucky Department of Education and the Kentucky Network for Transforming Teaching. Topics of discussion included updates and current information about teacher leadership initiatives, efforts to expand National Board Certified Teachers in Kentucky, and the creation of Teacher Leaders on Special Assignment, a hybrid role shared by teachers in each region of the state.

Bernstein Presents at CUMU

Gary Bernstein, Instructor in the Department of Health and Sport Sciences, presented two presentations at the 21st Annual Coalition of Urban Metropolitan Universities Conference (CUMU), which was held in October and is sponsored by the University of Nebraska in Omaha. The presentation, "Student Philanthropy Program," was co-presented with Dr. Henry Cunningham, Executive Director of the UofL Office of Community Engagement, and Dr. Lora Haynes, Professor in the Department of Brain Sciences in the College of Arts & Sciences. The presentation, "Sport has the Power to...", addressed how sport has the power to improve communities and change peoples' lives for the better.

Team Creates Culturally Responsive Curriculum

Kathryn Whitmore, Professor and Endowed Chair of Early Childhood Education, Tasha Laman, Associate Professor and Director of the Nystrand Center for Excellence in Education, along with two JCPS teachers from Mill Creek Elementary and J.B. Atkinson

Academy, and CEHD doctoral students Emily Zuccaro and Tytianna Smith, created a culturally responsive curriculum through the program Professional Dyads and Culturally Relevant Teaching. The Early Childhood Education Assembly of the National Council of Teachers of English sponsored their work. Read more... <https://www.yumpu.com/document/view/54353023/envision-equity-oct-2015>

Faculty Publications

Gaetane Jean-Marie, Chair of the Department of Educational Leadership, Evaluation and Organizational Development (ELEOD), and co-author Katherine Mansfield, will present their paper, "Courageous Conversations about Race and Gender: Voices and Lessons from the Field," at the annual University Council for Educational Administration (UCEA) convention in November.

Jake Gross, Assistant Professor in ELEOD, presented about current trends in higher education finance at a meeting hosted by the University of Ottawa and the National Association of State Budget Officers (NASBO). State budget officers from across the U.S. and officials from the Canadian government attended the meeting.

Matt Bergman, Kevin Rose, and Meera Alagaraja, Assistant Professors in ELEOD, are authors of the book chapter, "Asynchronicity, Access, and Attainment: Best Practices of an Adult Degree Completion Program," for the book, Handbook of Research on Innovative Technology Integration in Higher Education. Learn more...<http://www.igi-global.com/book/handbook-research-innovative-technology-integration/120293>

Lori Norton-Meier, Associate Professor, and Kathy Whitmore, Professor and Endowed Chair of Early Childhood Education, both with the Early Childhood Research Center and the Department of Early Childhood and Elementary Education, are authors of, "Development moments: Teacher decision making to support young writers," which is featured in the current issue of Young Children, <http://www.naeyc.org/yc/currentissue>.

In addition, Dr. Norton-Meier and Yuliya Aardasheva, a graduate of the CEHD's Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction program and Assistant Professor at Washington State University, are two of three authors on the article, "Negotiation, embeddedness, and non-threatening learning environments as themes of science and language convergence for English language learners," which was published in Studies in Science Education.

CEHD Fast Fact:

CEHD awarded $440,800 in scholarship funding to 269 undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral students for the fall 2015 and spring 2016 semesters!

Submit Items to the Insider

The CEHD Insider is an internal newsletter designed to inform faculty and staff about college news and events. Information such as research, presentations, publications, awards, conferences, meetings, or special events will be featured in each edition. If you have news to share, please send to dorothy@louisville.edu, or call 502-852-2639.

Student News

ADELSON AND ECPY STUDENT PUBLISH PAPER

Sebastian Barr, a doctoral student in the Department of Counseling and Human Development (ECPY), Jill Adelson, Association Professor in ECPY, and Dr. Stephanie Budge, formerly with the CEHD, co-authored an article titled, "Transgender Community Belongingness as a Mediator Between Strength of Transgender Identity and Well-Being," that was accepted for publication in the Journal of Counseling Psychology.

CEHD Faculty and Students Present at AARC

Rick Balkin, Professor and Assistant Chair of ECPY, along with Katelyn Gosnell and Shaun Sowell, doctoral students in the ECPY Counselor Education and Supervision program, presented at the Association for Assessment and Research in Counseling (AARC) annual conference.

Kayla Davis was featured in the Fall 2015 issue of UofL Magazine for her perseverance in overcoming very difficult obstacles to attend college. She is a recipient of the Cardinal Covenant scholarship and completed a bachelor's degree in early childhood education. She is now enrolled in the CEHD's M.Ed. in Teacher Leadership program.

Kelsi Worrel, an Exercise Science major, was selected to receive the WISH Athlete of the Year Award. The Louisville Women's Sport Network hosted its first Women in Sports Honors (WISH) in September. It is the first ceremony of its kind that recognizes Louisville's outstanding female athletes and supporters of women's athletics. Tom Jurich, UofL Athletic Director, was the special guest speaker.

Alumni News

Ann Walls graduated from the College of Arts & Sciences in 1959 with a major in Elementary Education and was inducted into Kappa Delta Pi (KDP) that year as well. She began teaching at Cochran Elementary (a CEHD partner school) in 1960 and retired from there in 2008—completing 48 years as a fourth/fifth grade teacher. Throughout the years, she has continued to volunteer with KDP and UofL. On Sunday, Nov. 8th, she will be presented a special recognition award for her years of service at the KDP Initiation Ceremony, which will be held in Chao Auditorium.

Chris Gehring, a graduate of the Sport Administration program, recently accepted a position as digital media manager with the Washington Wizards. He attributed being selected for the position to the education and support he received as a student in the SPAD program.

Deborah Ford, a graduate of the Ed.D. program in Educational Administration, has been named Chancellor of University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

Talea Drummer, a graduate of the M.Ed. program in Counseling and Personnel Services, was named the associate athletics director for student-athlete support services at Eastern Michigan University.

Donna Stayton, a graduate of the B.S. program in Health and Human Performance, was selected to receive the PATH Award from Florida International University for her work in reducing the impact of secondhand smoke.

Corey Mehl, a graduate of the M.S. program in Sport Administration, began in late spring a new job as community walk coordinator for the Ronald McDonald House Charities of Oregon and Southwest Washington.

Louisville Mayor Greg Fischer has appointed Yvette Gentry, a graduate of the B.S. in Organizational Leadership and Learning program, as his new chief of community building. She will also continue to serve as director of Youth Detention and Prevention Services and as one of the Mayor's top aides. Read more... <http://www.courier-journal.com/story/news/politics/metro-government/2015/09/29/yvette-gentry-named-community-building-chief/73036706/>

Upcoming Events

Graduate Student Appreciate Week

- CEHD Graduate Student Association (GSA) will host a table each afternoon in the CEHD lobby, November 9th - 13th. Show our students how much we support them! Stop by, meet and greet new and potential students and the 2015-16 officers of GSA.

Planetarium Partners with Lilly's Restaurant for a Good Cause

- Gheens Science Hall and Rauch Planetarium is partnering with Lilly's Restaurant to raise funds for Bloom Elementary School to host the portable planetarium for a full day. The event will be held, Thursday, November 19th, during lunch and dinner and will feature special dishes and drinks. Reservations are recommended. Call 502-451-0447.

Submit Items to the Insider

The CEHD Insider is an internal newsletter designed to inform faculty and staff about college news and events. Information such as research, presentations, publications, awards, conferences, meetings, or special events will be featured in each edition. If you have news to share, please send to dorothy@louisville.edu, or call 502-852-2639.

