

Where Are We With H1N1 Influenza?

Wednesday Sept. 16, 2009, 10:45 AM - 1:00 PM

HSC Auditorium (under the Kornhauser Library)
UofL Health Sciences Center

The ongoing outbreak of novel influenza A (H1N1), now rendered Pandemic H1N1, 2009, continues to represent a challenge in the United States and internationally.

In preparation for the nation's usual influenza season, presenters will review lessons learned from the initial outbreak of the disease, provide an overview of how the Southern Hemisphere has dealt with H1N1 for their influenza season and educate attendees on how to best prevent transmission of the virus.
