

A.I.M. Research Question

The purpose of this pilot program is to assess the impact of intrusive advising and critical thinking on the persistence of students placed on academic warning. This program will be implemented in two phases. Phase I, during the 2009 – 2010 academic year, will focus on development of advisors' skill and specific assessment instruments. Phase II, during the 2010 – 2011 academic year, will focus on implementing strategies and instruments with students on academic warning.

The research question is: What is the impact on student retention when advisors use intrusive advising and critical thinking with students who are on academic warning?