

CRIMINAL JUSTICE STUDIES: A CRITICAL JOURNAL OF CRIME, LAW AND SOCIETY

A refereed journal published quarterly by Routledge, Taylor & Francis Group

Special Edition on Cybercrime and Cybercriminology

Criminal Justice Studies invites the submission of manuscripts for consideration for inclusion in a planned special issue on cybercrime and cybercriminology. Society's reliance on computers and the Internet continue to grow. With this growth, the computer and the Internet have created an arena for criminal activity. Analytical papers that focus on all forms of crime on the Internet (including but not limited to: digital piracy, identity theft, cyberstalking, and academic dishonesty are welcome). All manuscripts will be peer reviewed. Manuscripts should be no more than 25 typed, double-spaced pages including tables, figures and references using APA 5th edition style. Manuscripts must be received no later than March 1, 2009. The special edition is slated to be volume 23 issue 4 of the journal.

Criminal Justice Studies was previously published under the title The Justice Professional this journal is a referred journal now published quarterly. Qualitative and quantifiable articles are sought mainly from academics and research in the field, though articles from professional may also be considered.

All contributions as well as biographies of contributors must be sent to the guest editor via the e-mail address below. Please submit articles to:
