

SIMÓN
SEDILLO
INTERNATIONAL
FILM TOUR
UOFL'S FLOYD THEATER
FRIDAY OCTOBER 10TH
7:30 PM

†Effects of Globalization in Oaxaca, Mexico

†Privatization of Resources and Paramilitary Violence

†Struggle and Resistance of Indigenous Communities

Documentary filmmaker Simón Sedillo presents a dynamic evening of short film screenings collectively shot and edited by Sedillo himself as well as women and children of the afflicted communities. Sedillo will also discuss the social, political and economic contexts of the film clips while connecting the dots between international policy and the intentional displacement of indigenous communities - and how they're fighting back.

At the core of this presentation will be the concept of the cooperative, sustainable self-empowerment embodied by the indigenous communities of Oaxaca as they work together collectively to free themselves from restrictive government policy in the struggle for dignity and a more just world.

*This event is FREE for everyone***

*Coffee and Refreshments***

*Bilingual/Spanish translation provided***

Donations will be accepted at this event to benefit
Mal de Ojo TV, an Indigenous Community Media Project in Oaxaca

For more info contact Aramie Victoria @ 502.544.1933

This event sponsored by the Anthropological Student Association (ASA), the Dept. of Latin American & Latino Studies, the Commonwealth Center for Humanities and Society at UofL, the Anthropology Dept. at UofL, KY Interfaith Taskforce on Latin America and the Caribbean (KITLAC) and Student/Farmworker Alliance (SFA)