Manuscript Copy Agreement

The Department of Special Collections distributes copies of unrestricted manuscript material under the following conditions:

1. Citation

Purchasers should follow accepted scholarly standards of citation for manuscripts. Citations should include the title of the manuscript and the name of this repository. Example: Mary Austin Holley Letters, University of Louisville Library, Special Collections.

2. Copyright

Purchasing copies does not transfer copyright. In the case of material released to the University of Louisville Foundation, Inc., for example, copyright remains with the Foundation. Unpublished material is protected under the copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code), subject only to fair use standards. Copies purchased under this agreement may not be copied or replaced.

3. Liability

The purchaser agrees to hold harmless the University of Louisville and the University of Louisville Foundation, Inc., against suits, claims, expenses and other actions arising from use of the material purchased. The purchaser will notify the Department of Special Collections if the material is used for purposes other than those indicated below.

4. Publication

Permission to publish must be obtained from the Department of Special Collections and, in the case of material protected by copyright, by the holders of the copyright. Locating the holders of copyright and securing permission is the responsibility of the purchaser. Scholarly courtesy requires that copies of published or unpublished works that rely heavily upon sources housed in the Department of Rare Books and special Collections be deposited here.
