

Dissertation Abstracts (and Full-Text) through ProQuest Digital Dissertations

Dissertations from 1997-present are now available in electronic form at no charge. To retrieve a dissertation, please follow the instructions below. Pre-1997 dissertation abstracts can also be searched but not downloaded for free. To access a pre-1997 dissertation, use Interlibrary-Loan. University of Louisville dissertations and theses are available in print format going back to 1909. They are located on the 3rd floor and are arranged by date and author's last name.

Step 1: Go to the main library web page: <http://library.louisville.edu/>

Step 2: Click on Full Text Databases A-Z (under the Articles section of the page).

Step 3: Scroll down until you find Digital Dissertations.

Step 4: Enter your search. You have several options:

A. To search for a particular author:

Type the author's last/family name first, then a comma and the first name if you know it. Change the drop down box to Author (AU)

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Digital Dissertations search interface. At the top, there are navigation buttons for SEARCH, BROWSE, RESULTS LIST, MARKED LIST, SHOPPING CART, DOWNLOAD, CONTACT, HELP, and PRICING. The search mode is set to "Search - basic". Below this, there is a text input field containing "clom, leslie" and a dropdown menu set to "Author (AU)". A "Search" button is to the right. Below the main search field are two additional search fields, each with a dropdown menu set to "Choose a Field". At the bottom, there is a "Degree Date" field with "from" and "to" sub-fields and a note "(e. g. 1965)".

B. To search for a dissertation by title: Change the drop down box to Title (TI)

C. To search for a dissertation by subject or a particular university: Change the drop down box to subject (SU) or school (SC).
