

Department of Microbiology and Immunology

Faculty and Staff Awards and Special Recognition

Faculty & Staff Awards and Special Recognition

Dr. Jill Suttles was one of 54 senior women faculty selected nationwide to participate in the Hedwig van Ameringen Executive Leadership in Academic Medicine® (ELAM) Program.

Dr. Richard Miller was selected as the 2010 recipient of the Outstanding Educator Award in the School of Medicine. He was formally recognized at the Fall Honors Convocation in November, 2010 and received a monetary award for his achievement.

Dr. Yousef Abu Kwaik became the Editor-In-Chief of Frontiers in Cellular Microbiology. He was also awarded an ASM (American Society for Microbiology) International Professorship for Asia to assist in teaching a course on cellular microbiology at Al-Quds University in Jerusalem.

Dr. Hari Bodduluri was named the 2010 Julep Ball Scientist of the Year at the James Graham Brown Cancer Center.

At the 2010 Celebration of Faculty Excellence on Wednesday, Oct. 13th, Dr. James E. Graham, Dr. Haval Shirwan, and Dr. Esma Yolcu were honored for receiving patents, licenses or options over the past year.

Lihua Zhang, Research Technologist II in Dr. Jill Suttles' lab, was recognized by the university at the 2010 annual staff recognition luncheon on October 8th for 10 years of service.

Crystal Dick, Program Assistant, Sr. in the M&I Business Office, was recognized by the university at the 2010 annual staff recognition luncheon on October 8th for 15 years of service.