

UNIVERSITY of LOUISVILLE

Co-sponsored by

Dr. Steven Humphrey

The Philosophy Department

and

Phi Sigma Tau

Eighth Annual Steven Humphrey Student Philosophy Colloquium

Keynote Speaker
Professor Jenefer Robinson
University of Cincinnati

Website
[www.louisville.edu/philosophy/
ugreshumphrey.html](http://www.louisville.edu/philosophy/ugreshumphrey.html)

For more information contact
Robert Kimball at robert.kimball@louisville.edu
or (502) 852-0452

*November 14, 2008
9:30am-5:30pm
Humanities Building
Room 300*

9:30 am—10:05 am

“Contempt and Disgust in the Journey of Zarathustra”

Aaron McClain
University of Tennessee

10:15 am—10:50 am

“Monumental Architecture as a Monumental Problem: Negotiating Authenticity through Heidegger and Nietzsche”

Ashley Bohrer
George Washington University

11:00 am—11:35 am

“Galileo and Lonergan on Appearance and Reality”

Corey Smith
Western Kentucky University

11:45 am—12:20 pm

“Defending the JTB Analysis”

Heidi Hildeman
University of Tennessee

12:30 pm—1:05 pm

“Pragmatic Emergentism”

Jonathan Maci
Hanover College

1:15 pm—1:50 pm

“Consciousness and Abnormal Psychology”

Mike Dieciuc
Xavier University

2:00 pm—2:35 pm

“Racial Epithets: What We Say and Mean By Them”

Adam Croom
University of Pennsylvania

2:45 pm—3:20 pm

“An Illusion of Happiness”

Trisha Spakes
Wright State University

3:30 pm—4:05 pm

“Reconciling Two Accounts of Happiness in Aristotle’s Nicomachean Ethics”

Daniel Beck
Miami University of Ohio

4:15 pm—5:30 pm Keynote Address
“Emotion”

Prof. Jenefer Robinson
University of Cincinnati

Sessions are scheduled to allow 20 minutes reading time for each paper and 15 minutes for discussion, with 10 minutes between sessions. Obviously, the boundaries between discussion-time and break-time will be flexible.

Food will be available in Humanities 300 throughout the day, transforming gradually from breakfast to lunch to snack items.