

October 2017 Cyber Security Awareness

Stay tuned to more awareness information throughout the month of October

- The Internet now touches every aspect of our daily lives; by spending more time online, university employees and students are also exposing themselves to cyber threats and the vulnerabilities present in technology and the Internet.
- Cyber-crimes are on the rise, including data breaches, online scams, fraud, identity and intellectual property theft, network intrusions, and a range of financial crimes from fraud to embezzlement.
- As these emerging online risks threaten our digital lives – including our homes, schools, and workplaces – it is critical that everyone makes cybersecurity a priority.
- Cybersecurity is the responsibility of all university employees and students, and even small actions can make a huge difference in keeping the Internet safe.
