Chapter 101 Election Scope and Voter Eligibility

101.1 Elections Governed by SGAGER:

- (a) The Student Body President, Student Body Executive Vice President, Student Body Academic Vice President, and Student Body Services Vice President⁴, and the College President, College Vice President, College Senators, and any other eligible College officer of any Unit of Enrollment that opts to participate in the SGA General Election,⁵ shall be elected in the SGA General Election.
- (b) The elections of all College Presidents, College Vice Presidents, and College Senators shall be in accordance with SGA rules and the rules of their respective council constitutions/bylaws that the Supreme Court has on file. If a candidate is elected through an unapproved constitution/bylaw(s), the council shall be subject to litigation or sanction(s) by SGAGER 602.1.

101.2 Voter Eligibility for University-Wide Elections: Any student currently enrolled at the University of Louisville is eligible to vote for the offices of Student Body President, Student Body Executive Vice President, Student Body Academic Vice President, and Student Body Services Vice President.⁶

101.3 Voter Eligibility for College Elections: Any student currently enrolled at the University of Louisville is eligible to vote for the offices of College President, College Vice President, College Senator, and additional College office positions within their Academic Unit.

101.4 Voter Eligibility Determination: The Dean of Students shall determine a voter's Academic Unit and eligibility from information on file with the University Office of the Registrar.

- (a). Students enrolled in more than one Academic Unit are expected to be able to choose which Academic Unit they would like to be used to determine their voter eligibility. When they receive their ballot, an option should be triggered that will allow them to pick their preferred Academic Unit, which will then customize their ballot according to their selected preferences. This classification only applies to college elections; any student currently enrolled at the University of Louisville will still be able to vote for University-wide offices regardless of dual enrollment.

NOTE: This option relies on the abilities of the Office of Institutional Effectiveness, Institutional Research, and the Dean of Students. If circumstances prevent this arrangement, the Dean of Students will determine a voter's Unit of Enrollment and eligibility based on their PRIMARY PROGRAM. For sufficient clarity, this means students enrolled in more than one school will only be able to vote for the school that is identified in the student's records system at their primary program. This classification only applies to college elections; any student
