THE GIVING TREE

The Giving Tree is a volunteer service group that works to spread some cheer during the holiday season. Members of The Giving Tree team up with the staff of non-profit organization Family Scholar House and set up an evergreen tree in the Student Activity Center room W310. We then take gift requests from children at Family Scholar House who wouldn’t receive holiday gifts otherwise and place them on tags which are put on the tree. Students, faculty, and friends of UofL are encouraged to sign out a tag, purchase the gift, and return it under the tree. Join us in brightening a child’s holiday season this year and sign out a tag!!

Stop by the Student Involvement Office anytime to sign out your tag. Unwrapped gifts need to be turned in by December 11th.

ALTERNATIVE WINTER BREAK

Fourteen UofL students are traveling to Washington DC for an Alternative Service Trip to provide service at some of their local charities from December 16 – 21. We will be distributing Toys for Tots at the RFK Stadium, cleaning up a men’s shelter and delivering fresh produce for school families living in area food deserts.

INTERNATIONAL SERVICE LEARNING—PHILIPPINES

The University of Louisville International Service Learning Program will embark on its seventh annual adventure to Cebu, Philippines on December 9, 2015. This group of 27 students from Communication, Dental, Engineering, and the Honors disciplines will present their Mind, Body, and Spirit themed programs to Philippine students in three local schools. Over the course of the nine-day trip, students and faculty will also visit sites of local and historical interest including Magellan’s Cross, Fort San Pedro, and the Taoist Temple. Wish our students well on their quest to engage in activities that address human and community needs while learning and growing both academically and personally.

The International Service Learning Program is an interdisciplinary program, open to UofL students from all majors. For more information please visit: www.louisville.edu/islp
