Known Issue: No Question Numbers in Test Canvas

In the Test Manager in Blackboard 9.1 there is a known issue with the Test Canvas. When you are creating a test within your course test manager, no question numbers appear to the left of any question created for the test or quiz.

As you can see in the image above, no number appears after the word “Question.” This issue will be addressed in a future release. Once the test is made available to students, while the students are taking the test each question does have a number.
