About Us

About University of Louisville

The University of Louisville is a state supported research university located in Kentucky’s largest metropolitan area that offers 170 majors, degrees, certificates and professional development programs.

The University of Louisville’s mission is to be a premier, nationally recognized metropolitan research university with a commitment to the liberal arts and sciences and to the intellectual, cultural, and economic development of our diverse communities and citizens through the pursuit of excellence.

With a student body exceeding 22,500 and with more than 6,500 faculty members, the University of Louisville paves the way for students of all ages to achieve their academic, professionals and personal goals through quality education.

About UofL Online Learning

The University of Louisville understands the challenges of adult professionals who want to earn a college degree and extends its education offerings through UofL Online Learning to connect nontraditional students with flexible online education options. Online learning can help them acquire the necessary knowledge and skills in a convenient and affordable manner.

Online Learning delivers a wide variety of online courses and in-demand undergraduate, graduate and certificate programs completely online to students in the U.S. and around the world.

About Kent School of Social Work

The Kent School of Social Work at the University of Louisville has been proudly educating social workers since 1936. Kent School seeks to prepare highly qualified social workers who practice from a strong professional value-base to serve the metropolitan mission of the University. Our graduates promote social justice through their practices with diverse client systems.

In the context of a research institution, Kent School is committed to knowledge development that informs social work practice, recognizing the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration to solve complex social problems.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Social Work program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. The University of Louisville is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.
From the Dean’s Desk

Many of us choose social work to make a difference. Whether it’s fighting for social justice; giving voice to the marginalized; or seeking solutions to racism, violence, and oppression, we work to protect those most vulnerable in our society. We also strive to respond to the tough social issues facing people at home and abroad. Whatever your reason for choosing the Kent School, you will become part of a community of learners leading the way in confronting daunting societal challenges.

At the Kent School, you will find a strong generalist orientation in the foundation curriculum preparing you for work with client systems ranging from individuals to groups, families, organizations, and communities. In the advanced curriculum, you will use complex critical thinking and best-practice evidence to deepen your understanding of social challenges. Our faculty are engaged in interdisciplinary research seeking answers to complex social issues – enhancing the classroom experience. Also, dual degrees in law, theology, women and gender studies, bioethics, and Pan African studies enable students to reach their professional goals within the context of social work.

We make every effort at the Kent School to meet a range of students’ needs as we prepare you for advanced practice in the field of social work. The BSW program offers an exciting opportunity for undergraduate students to learn about generalist evidence-based social work practice on the main campus. The MSSW program with its strong reputation for excellence, gives students the option of studying at the main campus with courses offered during the day, evening, and Saturdays, or online. The Ph.D. program prepares students for research and leadership in addressing challenges extending from the Commonwealth to the world community. I am confident each of these educational ventures will challenge and excite you.

I look forward to welcoming you to the Kent School family!

David A. Jenkins, PhD, LCSW
Dean, Kent School of Social Work
Master of Science in Social Work – Online Program Info

The online MSSW degree is split into two separate programs. The Standard 60-hour program is specifically designed for social workers who have earned a bachelor’s degree in any area of study other than Social Work. The Advanced Standing 30-hour program is designed for social workers who have earned a bachelor’s degree in Social Work within the last seven years. This online degree provides proper credentials for career advancements and prepares social workers for the ever changing and evolving needs and demands of today’s and tomorrow’s society.

MSSW program is delivered 100% online and it is comprised of 60 credit hours for the Standard program and 30 credit hours for the Advanced Standing. You can opt for one of a variety of curriculum plans that accommodate your learning style, professional and personal commitments and schedule, and helps you achieve your goals at your own pace. For more information regarding curriculum plans, please visit our website: louisville.edu/online/programs/masters/master-of-science-in-social-work/degree-map

As a graduate of the MSSW degree online, you will achieve a deeper, more complex understanding of social work, critically evaluating and contemplating the material while experimenting with the flexible application of the knowledge in a variety of contexts. Your skills and knowledge will focus around 1) children and families, 2) health and mental health, and 3) community and international practice.

Specialized Elective Coursework:

Students enrolled in the MSSW online program may choose to add a specialization in one of the following areas: Psychosocial Oncology, Mental Health, Alcohol and Drug Counseling, Gerontology or Military Social Work. The specializations are also delivered entirely online. Individual courses in these subjects may be taken as electives within the MSSW degree program.

Kent School Curriculum

The MSSW curriculum prepares graduate social workers to think critically about what they do, why they do it, and what outcomes will result from their social work practice. The focus is on forming decisions that promote social justice. To achieve this, our curriculum is guided by the following:

Cognitive Flexibility Theory, as developed by Spiro (1990), provides avenues and tools for students to integrate their learning experiences in such a way as to maximize their potential to meet the demands of the profession upon graduation.

Critical Thinking Focus helps students develop skills such as problem-solving and the ability to integrate knowledge from multiple disciplines and theories of human behavior. Our curriculum emphasizes critical reflection or appraisal of various points of view and integrates with problem-solving phases such as assessment, intervention, and evaluation.

Bruner’s Spiral curriculum format (1991) is used to implement the cognitive flexibility philosophy in the development of higher-order critical thinking skills. With this format, topics are revisited at increased levels of difficulty, complexity and depth of the area. It also links new knowledge to previous levels of learning on the same topic to expand the competency of the students.

Foundation Curriculum promotes a generalist perspective in which the simultaneous impact of many systemic levels (individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities) on clients’ lives is critically analyzed and recognized.

Advanced Curriculum/Advanced Social Work Practice enables the utilization and application of critical thinking on all levels—reading, professional writing and research, students’ practicum, the classroom, and in the students’ own thinking. Consistently reflecting on ethical practice, evaluating theoretical principles and epistemologies, and utilizing technological advances become basic practice patterns.

The MSSW online program curriculum focuses on developing skills that will be used to actively pursue social change, particularly with and on behalf of vulnerable and oppressed client systems. Students will learn how to become leaders in social-change efforts focused primarily on issues of poverty, discrimination, and other forms of social injustice.
Careers and Salary Information

Employment of social workers is expected to increase by 22% during the 2006-2016 decade. The number of mental health and substance abuse case specialists (social workers and counselors) will grow by 30%.

Growth of medical and public health social worker occupations is expected to reach 24%. Employment of social workers specialized in child, family, and school counseling is expected to grow by 19%. (Bureau of Labor Statistics www.bls.gov)

A master’s degree in social work is one requirement that prepares you for clinical practice. Professionals who attain a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE accredited program are eligible to become a Certified Social Worker (CSW) or a Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW). Other requirements vary by state. To view state-specific licensing requirements for the state(s) in which you want to practice, please visit: http://www.allpsychologycareers.com/social-work-license.html.

Admission

The Kent School seeks mature students who demonstrate great interpersonal skills, emotional stability, and the ability to work with people and perform well academically.

Application deadlines are dependent on which curriculum plan is chosen. Refer to the top of the previous page for curriculum plan options.

Due to the limited number of spaces in the MSSW Online program and the highly competitive admission, applicants may be requested to conduct an interview with the Admissions Committee during the application review process.

Admission Requirements

To ensure that entering students meet the Kent School’s admissions standards, we set the following requirements:

Standard 60-hour program:

- Bachelor’s degree in a field other than Social Work (or will complete their bachelor’s degree before the Fall of admission)
- A minimum 3.0 cumulative undergraduate GPA
  - Applicants with a GPA less than 3.0 will be considered for admission on a case by case basis
  - Applicants with a GPA less than 2.75 must submit acceptable GRE or Miller Analogies Test (MAT) scores
    - GRE score: Verbal – 149 and Quantitative – 144
    - MAT score: 397
- Please view the Application Checklist for a complete comprehensive list of the admission and application requirements

Advanced Standing 30-hour program:

- Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) earned from a CSWE-accredited Social Work degree program
- BSW was earned within the last seven years or will be completed before admission
- Minimum of 3.0 cumulative undergraduate GPA with a minimum 3.25 GPA in Social Work coursework
  - Applicants with less than a cumulative 3.0 GPA and a social work GPA of less than 3.25 will rarely be considered for the 30-hour program and will rarely be allowed to transfer social work coursework from their undergraduate degree toward their MSSW degree
  - If the applicant received a grade of “C” or lower in any social work foundation courses as a BSW, they may be asked to re-take these courses by the Admissions Committee as a condition of admission
- Please view the Application Checklist for a complete comprehensive list of the admission and application requirements
- In addition, applicants to both programs must submit a $65 non-refundable application fee.

*Active-Duty is defined as on orders for 180 days or more.

Online courses are charged at a different hourly rate than regular courses. Students are charged in full for online courses according to those rates even if taking a full-time course load. Tuition rate does not include costs associated with a specific course or program, such as textbooks. If you’re receiving a tuition scholarship, please check the monetary value to determine whether the cost of online courses is covered.

Note: Tuition and fees are subject to change at any time without prior notice. The summary on this page is intended to provide a quick reference for students. For more information and updates, visit the UofL Bursar’s page.

Additional Costs

A total cost ranging between $200 and $750 may be incurred throughout the entirety of the program. Costs include:

- Practicum insurance
- NASW annual membership

The actual cost depends on student’s insurance status, how many years it will take to complete the program, etc.

Note: This cost does not include textbooks. The cost of textbooks varies greatly between courses (as required by the respective instructors) so it is difficult to predict a total.

Financial Aid

The University of Louisville is committed to ensuring you’re knowledgeable about all of your financial aid options. That’s why we created Start to Finish, a collection of all the information you’ll need to simplify the financial aid process and make earning a degree affordable for your family.

The cornerstone of the financial aid process is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). File the FAFSA to determine your eligibility for need-based federal student aid. The UofL school code you'll need when filing the FAFSA is 001999. UofL’s Office of Student Financial Aid is available to answer any questions you have about the financial aid process.

Visit UofL’s financial aid web page or contact a financial aid counselor at 502.852.5511. Please note that international students are not eligible for federal financial aid, with some exceptions. To learn more about eligibility for international students, visit the U.S. Department of Education website.

Scholarships

Kent School of Social Work offers various scholarships to students who qualify, including those who plan to practice in rural Kentucky and students with an interest in working in gerontology, policy or legislative areas. Scholarship application and information can be found at uofl.me/kent-scholarship. The scholarship application deadline is May 15.

FAQs

1. Do I need a BSW degree to enter this program?

No, you do not need a BSW degree to enroll in the Standard 60-hour program. The Standard 60-hour MSSW online degree is designed for students who have earned a bachelor’s degree in any area of study other than social work. However, if you wish to enroll in theAdvanced Standing 30-hour program, you will need a BSW degree.

2. Is there a difference between MSW and MSSW degrees?

Not really, a Masters of Social Work and a Master of Science in Social Work have similar required coursework as mandated by the accrediting body, CSWE (Council on Social Work Education).

3. Do I have to come to the physical campus?

No, there are no campus requirements in this program. However, MSSW online students may be required to participate in synchronous “real time” learning over the Internet at designated times in some or all of the online courses, as outlined in the respective course syllabus.

4. Is the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) or the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) required for admission?

If your cumulative undergraduate GPA is 2.75 or above, no test score is required for admission to Kent School. Otherwise, applicants need to submit an acceptable score on either the GRE or the MAT. GRE score: Verbal – 149 and Quantitative – 144; MAT score: 397.

5. How long does it take for a decision to be made on my application?

From the time the application is complete, the process usually takes 8 to 9 weeks. When all admission materials have been received by Graduate Admissions, the applicant’s file goes before the Kent Admissions Committee for a decision, starting in January. The applicant is notified of the decision by email.
