Course Objective:

In Latin 202 the student will continue to review Latin grammar and translate classical Latin texts. Class objectives will be accomplished through a combination of reading, composition, and grammatical analysis. The objectives of this class are:

1. to continue to learn the fundamentals of Latin grammar;
2. to continue to learn the construction of English grammar;
3. to enable the student to translate primary Latin materials.
4. to inform the student of research materials for classical and medieval studies at the Ekstrom Library and to learn how to access them

Graduation Requirements:

The sequence Latin 101, 102, 201, 202 (or completion of the intermediate level of Latin 202) generally fulfills the College of Arts and Sciences language requirement. Your program's requirements, however, may vary. Always check with your advisor first.

Course Evaluation:	Worksheets: 10 graded, averaged as 1 grade
A - 100-90	Exams: Feb 6; Feb 27; Apr 1; Apr 20/22(1 grade)
B - 89-80	Last date to withdraw – Feb 25
C - 79-70	MLK Day – Jan 19; Spring Break Mar 16-22
D - 69-60
F – 59	3 Exams and 1 Worksheet average 25% each

Texts:

Oxford Reader book 4
Dictionary of choice
501 Latin Verbs - optional

Class Operation:

I plan to translate passages from the Oxford text Monday and Wednesday of each week of the term with emphasis on vocabulary and grammatical analysis. In Friday class focus will be on composition and grammar. Have a classmate to call about the class you have missed or e-mail me if you cannot attend. Exams may be made up within a week of returning to the class. Work is due on due date; no late work accepted. Attendance is absolutely necessary for successful completion of the class.

I reserve the right to make changes in this syllabus when necessary to meet learning objectives, to compensate for missed classes, or to address issues as they arise.

Students who have a disability which may impair their ability to complete necessary work on time should see me concerning necessary accommodations. The Disabilities Resource Center will provide further assistance.

Audit courses do not earn credit. The course will be noted on the transcript as AU. Instructor approval is needed and auditors need to discuss with me the work expected to warrant the audit.

Please be on time. Entering late and gathering materials early is disruptive to all. If you are late or must leave early sit near the door. Turn off cell phones during class time.

Students who decide they need tutoring should contact the REACH Center and set up tutoring sessions. Times are flexible and tutoring is a free service.
