2017 Governor's Conference for Postsecondary Education Trusteeship: Dynamic Leadership for Changing Times

September 11-12, 2017

Being a more innovative and effective board member helps ensure your college or university will remain financially viable and able to deliver high-quality academic programs to Kentuckians of all ages. The Governor's Conference on Postsecondary Education Trusteeship provides the insights you need to make decisions that will boost student success, enrollment, graduation, retention and other key outcomes.

Speakers include

- Freeman A. Hrabowski, III, president of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, will challenge listeners to rethink business models and delivery methods to create inclusive campus environments.
- Renee Shaw, host of the KET show "Connections with Renee Shaw," will moderate a legislative panel discussing the 2018 legislative session, including emerging topics for legislative action and budget concerns.
- Eileen Klein, president of the Arizona Board of Regents, will discuss how Arizona's strategic agenda has guided change and improvement in the state's higher education system.
- Robert L. King, president of the Council on Postsecondary Education, will provide an overview of Kentucky's new Strategic Agenda and performance funding model, and how it links to several metrics of the state's strategic agenda.

Location: Louisville Marriott East, 1903 Embassy Square Blvd, Louisville

Registration deadline is August 28. Hotel reservations may be made under the "Governor's Conference" block.
