

AVIATORS

"Admission Volunteers In Action TO Recruit"
201 -2016 Application

Each year, the Office of Diversity Recruitment, housed within the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, hosts visitation programs at the University. In addition, this office goes into the community in efforts to encourage youth to consider the University of Louisville and promote educational awareness to our leaders of tomorrow. The Office of Diversity Recruitment could not successfully do this without the help of a group of responsible, authentic and devoted students. They are the AVIATORS.

Being an AVIATOR will give current students the opportunity to represent the University at an official level while working with fellow students and Admissions staff to help build a diverse future student body.
