The Hite Institute of Art and Design is pleased to announce our 2024 Annual Student Exhibition. A staple each year in our exhibition calendar, this annual exhibit is juried by Hite Studio Faculty who each select two outstanding undergraduate students from their subject areas. Combining students from Photography, Printmaking, Sculpture, Fibers, Painting and more, the exhibition is an exciting opportunity for the Hite to show-off the creativity and skill of our students.

Held each year at the Cressman Center for Visual Arts, the exhibition also offers our undergrads a chance to exhibit their work (some for the first time!) in a professional gallery setting and connect with the Louisville community.

This year, the student's work depicts various artistic traditions including landscape, portraiture, and found object assemblage, but also explores conceptual themes tied to religion, violence, and identity. All together the student's work represents the artistic development of young artists—from learning the basics of technique, to fininding their own styles and subjects they deem work exploring.

The Annual Student Exhibition will be on view January 11-February 9, 2024. A reception will be held on Friday February 2, from 5-7 pm. We hope you will join us!

Participating students include: Carly Briney, Nikima Chirinos, Rebekah Flowers, Sophia Fowler, Hannah Maxwell, Mac Meek, Muny Mok, Nahla Muhammad, AJ Ruffra, Maddison Tunnicliff, Claire Vicars, Tarra Vu, Kimberly Wang, Samuel Wilding, Calista White, + Barry Wolvin
