POTENTIAL EXTRAMURAL REV	IEWER VERIFICATION
Professor Department
significance of the written and participate in this extramural r with the Chair of my department experts and who have attained equivalent achievement. These quality and significance of my suggest that they would be un individuals is a personal friend individuals with whom I have a	I creative works of our eview process by procent. I have provided to senior rank* in the e persons should be work. I have not had able to provide object, and none was a mear relationship, albeit	experts in the discipline to assess the quality and ar faculty. As a reviewee I have exercised my right to eviding names of potential reviewers in consultation the names of persons who are regarded as qualified ar profession or who have demonstrated an able to provide expert testimony regarding the the kinds of contacts with these persons that would extive reviews of my work. For example, none of these intor during my graduate career. If I have listed distant, I have justified their inclusion. To the best of ight have an unfair positive or negative bias toward
Reviewee's Signature	Date
are experts who have achieved should be able to provide an a faculty member. To the best of able to provide an objective ex	d senior rank* in the assessment of the qua f my knowledge this valuation, and I have	riewers. To the best of my knowledge, these persons ir profession or an equivalent standing and who ality and significance of the written works of this list contains the names of persons who should be no information about these reviewers or the reviewers that would lead to doubts about the
Department Chair	Date

*For the purpose of promotion to associate professor with tenure, senior rank refers to tenured faculty members (associate or full professors).

For promotion of term faculty members, reviewers may be experienced non-tenure-track "Teaching Professors" or "Professors of the Practice" with substantial publication records.

For promotion to full professor, senior rank refers to the rank of full professor or equivalent.