

Notice of Nondiscrimination Policy

The University of Louisville complies with applicable Federal civil rights laws and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex. The University of Louisville does not exclude people or treat them differently because of race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex when providing or administering health activities, health programs, health related insurance, or other health-related coverage.

The University of Louisville provides free aids and services to people with disabilities to communicate effectively with us, such as:

- Qualified sign language interpreters
- Written information in other formats
- Provides free language services to people whose primary language is not English, such as qualified interpreters and information written in other languages.

If you are unable to obtain these aids and services in the office please contact Stacie McCutcheon, Privacy Officer, at (502) 852-3803.

If you believe that the University of Louisville has failed to provide these services or discriminated in another way on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex, during the provision or administration of health activities, health programs, health related insurance, or other health-related coverage, you can file a grievance with:
