Subject: FW: Schenley Cooperage Coal Usage

Marianne, We do not have any photograph of any stack on the western portion of the subject site operated by Schenley Cooperage. However, the Sanborn maps that we have provided to you reflect Schenley did have coal fired operations.

Beginning on the 1905 Sanborn there is reference to the usage of coal at the cooperage. It is believed that the steam used to dry the barrels was generated using coal as the fuel source, see below a copy of the language from the 1905 Sanborn.

Beginning with the 1928 Sanborn the letters I.E.P can be seen near the Engine Room on the Sanborns. I.E.P. stands for Independent Energy Producer, or as according to the EDR Sanborn Map key Independent Electric Plant (See page 2 of the EDR Sanborn Map Key). It is believed that coal was the fuel source for the electricity. To further support this belief there are railroad sidings on the eastern and western sides of the cooperage plant, which lead west directly into the Stearns Coal Co. Inc. coal yard, this can be seen beginning with the 1928 Sanborn. It should be noted that on the Sanborns which we have the "Ste" is cut off of the name "Stearns", we were able to obtain the name of this company by looking through the City Directory and the addresses shown for each company.

The coding for framing, floor and roof structural units as shown above is used in describing the construction of fire-resistive buildings. In addition, reports for fire-resistive buildings will show the date built and wall construction when other than brick.

FP buildings have masonry floors and roof; concrete and/or directly or indirectly protected steel framing and day brick, stone or poured concrete walls.

FPX buildings are FP buildings with inferior walls such as concrete block, cement brick, metal or glass panels, etc.

NC buildings have unprotected steel framing and fire-resistive but non-masonry floors and roof.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

DESCRIPTION

Environmental Data Resources, Inc.'s (EDR) City Directory Abstract is a screening tool designed to assist environmental professionals in evaluating potential liability on a target property resulting from past activities. EDR's City Directory Abstract includes a search and abstract of available city directory data. For each address, the directory lists the name of the corresponding occupant at five year intervals.

Business directories including city, cross reference and telephone directories were reviewed, if available, at approximately five year intervals for the years spanning 1900 through 2007. This report compiles information gathered in this review by geocoding the latitude and longitude of properties identified and gathering information about properties within 660 feet of the target property.

A summary of the information obtained is provided in the text of this report.
