

Subject: Drive-through faculty, staff vaccinations planned for early April

Date: Tuesday, March 16, 2021 at 3:23:35 PM Eastern Daylight Time

From: UofL Update

To: UofL Update

Dear Faculty and Staff,

We have been working with Campus Health and UofL Health to plan a high-volume vaccination drive-through in the Cardinal Stadium lot in early April. We are pleased to announce that faculty and staff will be first in line to receive vaccinations at this site.

Faculty and staff who have not yet scheduled a vaccination appointment will receive an invitation by the end of March for a dedicated UofL vaccine event at the stadium, which should accommodate 4,000 people per day. Those of you who are over 60 and have already registered at the Brook and Liberty site should keep those appointments.

Please know that we have been working with the state and advocating for our community and for our employees. While some of you have expressed frustration that other counties in Kentucky have made faster progress in vaccinating their people, the state has recently adjusted its distribution process to more equitably distribute vaccines to counties with larger populations. This should greatly accelerate the vaccination process as UofL Health, which is responsible for vaccinating not just UofL employees, but members of the community who have fallen in categories 1a, 1b and now 1c, receives more vaccines.

We will share more detail as it is available. Again, we are pleased that our faculty and staff will be the first to be vaccinated at the new site in early April.

Best,

Beth A. Boehm

Executive Vice President and University Provost

Kevin Gardner

Executive Vice President for Research & Innovation

Michael Mardis

Dean of Students

Mary Elizabeth Miles

Vice President, Human Resources

Phillip Bressoud

Executive Director, Campus Health Services

Mark J. Watkins

Chief Operating Officer