University of Louisville KRS 164.2898 Annual Certification Report

I. Statutory Background and Scope

KRS 164.2898(1) requires each public postsecondary institution to publish and submit, by October 1 of each year, "a complete list and description of the nature, costs, and source of authority of all policies, programs, practices, and procedures" that (a) are designed or implemented to promote or provide differential treatment or benefits on the basis of religion, race, sex, color, or national origin, and (b) are required by federal or state law, court order, or a binding contract entered into prior to June 27, 2025.

KRS 164.2894 et seq. clarifies that certain measures are not prohibited and may be maintained, including:

- Bona fide sex-based qualifications or accommodations historically maintained in the usual course of operating a public postsecondary institution;
- Bona fide national-origin qualifications tied to visa eligibility;
- Bona fide religious accommodations required by law;
- Programs or measures required for institutional accreditations; and
- Resource centers, so long as participation in their events and programming is optional and access is not restricted based on protected characteristics.

This report lists only currently active University of Louisville ("University" or "UofL") items that meet the two-part test under KRS 164.2898(1). However, items that may be perceived as "DEI proxies" but do not actually create differential treatment or benefits, and thus fall outside the two-part test, are listed in Section IV for transparency.

II. Methodology

UofL thoroughly reviewed active policies, programs, practices, and procedures across the institution (including Student Affairs, Housing, Athletics, Academic Catalogs, Human Resources, and Access & Opportunity). Included herein are active items verified by UofL officials, which are mapped to their sources of authority under KRS 164.2895. When a policy, program, practice, or procedure is mandated by federal law or regulation, a specific citation is provided.

III. Policies, Programs, Practices, and Procedures Requiring Disclosure

Each entry below: (a) describes the differential treatment or benefit, (b) explains why it is required, (c) lists the legal authority, (d) notes financial cost information (if any), and (e) links to current UofL sources (if any exist).

A. Sex-Separated Intercollegiate and Intramural Athletics

- a. Differential treatment or benefit. Many of UofL's intercollegiate and intramural athletic programs are organized into sex-separated teams. This separation is based on biological sex, which is a form of sex-based differentiation historically maintained in higher education athletics.
- b. Explanation of requirement. Federal Title IX regulations permit sex-separated teams and require equal athletic opportunities for members of each sex. See 34 C.F.R. § 106.41.
- c. Legal authority. KRS 164.2895(2)(n) provides an exception for bona fide sex-based qualifications or accommodations that have been historically maintained in the usual course of operating an institution. As aforementioned, federal Title IX regulations permit universities to separate teams based on sex, and Executive Order 14201 expressly directs institutions to provide women an equal opportunity to participate in sports by separating athletic teams by biological sex.
- d. Costs. Athletic expenditures are reported annually under the federal Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA). The most recent UofL disclosure is available on the EADA database, and sport- and sex-segmented operating figures are contained there. A copy of the disclosure is also attached to this report.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). Student-Athlete Handbook (Title IX grievance procedures) (https://perma.cc/99RL-XPKP); Title IX Homepage (https://perma.cc/G74Y-H5C2).

B. Sex-Specific Facilities and Sex-Specific Housing

a. Differential treatment or benefit. Certain campus facilities are designated as male or female. Some residence halls/areas offer gender-specific communal bathrooms or private, single-occupant bathrooms.

- b. Explanation of requirement. Title IX regulations expressly allow separate toilet, locker room, and shower facilities on the basis of sex, provided the facilities are comparable. 34 C.F.R. § 106.33.
- c. Legal authority. KRS 164.2895(2)(n) provides an exception for bona fide sex-based qualifications or accommodations that have been historically maintained in the usual course of operating an institution. As aforementioned, federal Title IX regulations permit universities to separate facilities based on sex. Moreover, Executive Order 14201 directs institutions to "protect all-female locker rooms."
- d. Costs. Sex-specific facilities are incorporated into general facilities and housing operations; no separate cost line is therefore available.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). Housing webpages (https://perma.cc/QGK4-RFUH) reflect the availability of gender-specific or private bathrooms in traditional residence halls.
  - C. Recognition of the Single-Sex Membership Practices of Social Fraternities and Sororities
- a. Differential treatment or benefit. UofL recognizes many social fraternities and sororities, whose membership may be restricted based on sex. While UofL permits these organizations to restrict membership on the basis of sex, it does not compel them to do so. Social fraternities and sororities are private organizations, and they have the right to establish their own membership criteria.
- b. Explanation of requirement. Title IX regulations exempt the membership practices of qualifying social fraternities and sororities from Title IX coverage, thereby allowing institutions to recognize them without violating federal law. 20 U.S.C. § 1681(a)(6)(A); see also U.S. Dept. of Education guidance.
- c. Legal authority. KRS 164.2895(2)(n) provides an exception for bona fide sex-based qualifications or accommodations that have been historically maintained in the usual course of operating an institution. Through the Title IX regulations and guidance cited above, the federal government has also expressly authorized social fraternities and sororities to restrict membership based on sex.
- d. Costs. Student Affairs operates the Office of Fraternity & Sorority Life (FSL), and costs are part of Student Affairs' operations. No separate single-sex line item is published.

e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). The Office of Fraternity & Sorority Life (FSL) webpages contain additional information about the fraternity and sorority chapters found on UofL's campus.

D. Religious-Observance Accommodations

- a. Differential treatment or benefit. UofL grants schedule and academic adjustments for religious holy days.
- b. Explanation of requirement. Title VII requires employers to provide reasonable accommodations for employees' sincerely held religious beliefs, practices, or observances, unless such accommodations would create an undue hardship. The Supreme Court's opinion in Groff v. DeJoy (2023) clarifies that "undue hardship" means a substantial burden and not merely minor costs. UofL therefore grants such accommodations to its employees, and UofL policy extends comparable principles to students.
- c. Legal authority. KRS 164.2895(2)(p) provides an exemption for bona fide religious accommodations necessary to comply with federal or state law.
- d. Costs. Accommodations are handled within academic and HR operations, and UofL does not track the number of accommodations it grants per year. The costs, if any, would be negligible.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). UofL complies with its Work-Restricted Religious Holy Days policy (https://perma.cc/5P4M-KTVD).

E. National-Origin/Visa-Eligibility Qualifications in Hiring and Training

- a. Differential treatment or benefit. Certain employment and training roles lawfully require specific work authorization or visa eligibility. For example, some programs specify J-1 status or exclude H-1B status based on their specific structures.
- b. Explanation of requirement. Federal immigration and export-control laws require specific visa or work-authorization conditions that may include consideration of national-origin status. UofL implements these requirements through policy.

- c. Legal authority. Federal laws such as the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) of 1952 (as amended) and the Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA) of 1986 outline the framework for employment-based visas and petitions. UofL also abides by guidance issued by the Department of Labor, which oversees labor condition applications (LCAs) and the Department of Homeland Security, which oversees visa petitions.
- d. Costs. Visa processing and compliance costs are borne by the sponsoring units. Processing costs can range from $2,500 to $15,000, depending on the type of visa or sponsorship.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). UofL complies with its Employment of Non-Residential Aliens policy (https://perma.cc/QNL8-YWVJ).

F. Federal-Contractor Affirmative Action Program

- a. Differential treatment or benefit. No differential treatment or benefit is provided directly to individuals. This is primarily a data-gathering and/or data-analysis compliance program that includes workforce analyses, good-faith outreach, and adverse-impact monitoring.
- b. Explanation of requirement. As a federal contractor/grantee, UofL remains subject to 41 CFR Part 60, regarding equal opportunity, and parallel rules for protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. The U.S. Department of Labor issued the regulations under 41 CFR Part 60 to implement Executive Order 11246, which President Trump rescinded in January 2025. Despite the rescission of the executive order mandating affirmative action programs, the underlying regulations still exist. UofL continues to maintain a program consistent with applicable regulations and federal guidance.

The Department of Labor proposed a rule to rescind substantial portions of 41 CFR Part 60 on July 1, 2025. Comments on the proposed rule had to be received by September 2, 2025.

c. Legal authority. As aforementioned, the program is required by federal law. Per KRS 164.2894 et seq., diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives required by federal law are exempt from the statutes.

- d. Costs. UofL's Human Resources controls staff time and compliance infrastructure. Such costs are not included as standalone public line items. However, prior to the passage of House Bill 4 and President Trump's Executive Order rescinding Executive Order 11246, UofL entered a personal service contract with Jackson Lewis P.C., which conducted workforce analytics on behalf of the University. The total cost of that contract was less than $10,000. UofL is currently evaluating the need to renew Jackson Lewis' contract, but the cost of such renewal will likely not exceed $10,000.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). Notice of Nondiscrimination/Equal Opportunity statements (https://perma.cc/TS8Z-5EG3).

G. Mandatory Federal EEO/AA Contract Clauses

- a. Differential treatment or benefit. No such treatment or benefit is granted to individuals by UofL. Contract clauses impose nondiscrimination and affirmative action (which includes a commitment to equal opportunity) obligations on vendors. The clauses do not grant preferences in vendor selection.
- b. Explanation of requirement. As a federal contractor/grantee, UofL must still include the contract clauses pursuant to 41 CFR Part 60. The U.S. Department of Labor issued the regulations under 41 CFR Part 60 to implement Executive Order 11246, which President Trump rescinded in January 2025. Despite the rescission of the executive order, the underlying regulations still exist. UofL will therefore continue to include the clauses, as required, until these regulations are formally revoked.

The Department of Labor proposed a rule to rescind substantial portions of 41 CFR Part 60 on July 1, 2025. Comments on the proposed rule had to be received by September 2, 2025.

- c. Legal authority. As aforementioned, the program is required by federal law. Per KRS 164.2894 et seq., diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives required by federal law are exempt from the statutes.
- d. Costs. No costs are directly attributable to the inclusion of these clauses.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). UofL Procurement Terms & Conditions (https://perma.cc/UN66-D2TX).

H. Governor-Appointed Trustees

- a. Differential treatment or benefit. UofL's Bylaws permit the Board of Trustees' membership to reflect proportional demographic representation if required by state law.
- b. Explanation of requirement. Section 3.2 of UofL's Bylaws states, in relevant part, the following:

"If the Board of Trustees is required by law to have proportional representation in its membership based on residence, political affiliation, gender, minority racial composition, or professional qualifications, the Governor may remove any Trustee and replace him or her with another individual in order to bring the membership into compliance with the proportional representation requirement for the Board of Trustees." (emphasis added).

- c. Legal authority. KRS 164.821(5)(b) requires the Governor of Kentucky to make his or her at-large appointments in a manner that reflects "[n]o less than the proportional representation of the minority racial composition of the Commonwealth." Additionally, KRS 164.005(5)(a), which generally sets forth the duties and requirements of the Governor's Postsecondary Education Nominating Committee, requires that "[t]he committee shall provide to the Governor, inasmuch as possible, an equal number of male and female nominees."
- d. Costs. There are no costs associated with this requirement.
- e. Link(s) to UofL source(s). UofL Bylaws, current as of January 21, 2021. A copy of the Bylaws is also attached to this report.

IV. Items Included for Transparency Purposes

These programs and offices were screened as potential DEI proxies under the broad definitions of "differential treatment" and "diversity, equity, and inclusion initiative." However, UofL has determined that they do not restrict access based on religion, race, sex, color, or national origin (or any other protected class) and either do not meet the above definitions or are expressly excluded by said definitions.

Scholarships

Following the Supreme Court's 2023 decision in Students for Fair Admissions v. Harvard, UofL began revising scholarship agreements and award procedures to ensure that scholarship applicants would not face discrimination based on certain protected characteristics. This revision process is ongoing, and UofL has begun centralizing scholarships awarding and disbursement to establish better oversight. Although many scholarship agreements are still under revision, UofL is committed to awarding only scholarships that comply with state and federal law.

Student Resource Centers and Initiatives

The services and programming of resource centers are excluded from the definition of "diversity, equity, and inclusion initiative" under KRS 164.2894 and are therefore permitted if such services and programs are voluntary and access is not restricted on the basis of protected characteristics. Despite this express carveout, UofL has included information about some of its resource centers for transparency purposes.

- Center for Belonging, Access & Engagement (BAE Center). This is a comprehensive student resource hub located on UofL's Belknap campus that provides academic and social support to all students.
- Women's Center. This resource center is housed within the BAE center and provides programs, resources, and advocacy focusing on issues affecting all students, including women and student-parents. For example, the center coordinates lactation accommodations and education for students and staff. Center programming is entirely voluntary, and the center does not exclude individuals from participating due to their sex, race, or any other protected characteristics.
- LGBT Center. This resource center provides support and programming for students of diverse sexual orientations, including LGBT individuals and LGBT-allied individuals. This programming focuses on fostering dialogue on topics such as LGBT health, interests, and initiatives. The center and its programming are open to all students, regardless of their sexual orientation or other protected characteristics.
- Cultural and heritage programs and events. UofL continues to observe and celebrate long-recognized cultural and heritage months and permits registered student organizations and academic departments to organize events and activities for cultural and heritage month celebrations, as allowed under KRS 164.2895(2)(h). In compliance with Kentucky law and its own Viewpoint Neutrality Policy, UofL does not prohibit student organizations from celebrating cultural and heritage months that UofL does not officially observe.

Employment and Administrative Policies and Practices

Department of Legal Compliance & Investigations. This department handles investigations and trainings related to Title IX (sex discrimination and harassment), Title VI (race, color, and national origin discrimination), Title VII (race, color, religion, sex, and national origin discrimination), and other civil rights laws. All trainings and investigations conducted by this department are mandated by federal and state law, as well as federal guidance.

Religious Organizations

• Religious centers on campus. The Interfaith Center and the Baptist Campus Ministry are facilities on UofL's campus designated for religious services and worship. Decades ago, the organizations that use these buildings entered into agreements with the University whereby they funded construction of the buildings, while the University retained ownership and agreed to lease the buildings back to them for a nominal fee. The organizations housed within the facilities offer programming that is open to everyone, regardless of their protected characteristics. Further, the University does not provide preferential treatment to any religious group and would extend the same arrangement to any faith or denomination, provided campus space could accommodate the construction of a proposed facility. UofL also maintains several prayer/meditation rooms, which students and employees of all faiths may use.

Academic Programs and Practices

• Medical information sessions and educational programming. UofL sponsors medical information and educational programming for patients, the public, and practitioners that address empirically established physiological differences among demographics (e.g., sex-based pharmacokinetics, ancestry-related disease prevalence, or population-specific screening guidance). These activities are evidence-based, optional, and open to all participants. They are designed to improve the accuracy of diagnoses, the safety of treatment, and the quality of care. They are not intended to confer, and do not confer, any preferential treatment or benefit to a particular group.

Under KRS 164.2894 et seq., such activities are not "DEI initiatives" because the statute expressly excludes "differential treatment or benefits necessary to provide medical treatment or information" from the definition of DEI initiative. KRS 164.2894(7)(b)(4). Related provisions also preserve (i) academic course content or instruction and academic freedom and (ii) mental or physical health services provided by licensed professionals. KRS 164.2895(2)(b), (c), and (m). Accordingly, these programs are permissible and are only being reported for transparency purposes. UofL maintains the following compliance features with regard to such sessions and programming:

- Content is grounded in peer-reviewed evidence and presented by qualified faculty or clinicians, or staff under the supervision of qualified faculty.
- Access is not restricted by religion, race, sex, color, or national origin, and attendance is optional unless required by curriculum.
- Any discussion of demographic differences is clinically necessary and framed to guide medical judgment, not to provide a benefit or preferences.
- Programs avoid compelled speech or ideological litmus tests.

V. Certification

I, the General Counsel of the University of Louisville, hereby certify that this report contains, to the best of my knowledge after reasonable diligence, a complete list of all currently active UofL policies, programs, practices, and procedures that (1) are designed or implemented to promote or provide differential treatment or benefits on the basis of religion, race, sex, color, or national origin and (2) are required under federal or state law, a court order, or a binding contract entered into prior to the effective date of KRS 164.2984 et seq.

Insofar as practicable, an agenda and copies of all reports and other materials to be presented at the meeting may be provided to the Trustees two (2) days prior to a meeting. Discussion and/or action at a regular meeting shall not be limited to items on the agenda. Neither the business to be transacted at nor the purpose of any regular meeting of the Board of Trustees need be specified in the notice, or waiver of notice of such meeting.
- (b) (i) Written notice shall be given of any special or emergency meeting of the Board by the person(s) calling the meeting, the Board Secretary or the Board Secretary's designee, but such notice may be waived by any person entitled thereto.

  - (iii) Notice of a special meeting must be sent at least 24 hours before the special meeting.
  - (iv) An emergency meeting may be held with less than 24 hours advance notice, but the circumstances requiring the emergency meeting must be explained at the beginning of the meeting by the person chairing the meeting, and the circumstances requiring the emergency meeting must be recorded in the minutes of the meeting. Reasonable efforts must be undertaken, under emergency circumstances, to notify all Trustees of the emergency meeting as soon as reasonably possible.

- (v) Notice of a special or an emergency meeting shall state the date, time and place of the meeting and the agenda for the meeting.
- (vi) Any discussion at and action taken at a special or an emergency meeting shall be limited to items listed on the agenda in the meeting notice.

Section 2.4 QUORUM

A majority of all the Trustees shall constitute a quorum of the Board of Trustees, which shall act by a majority of those present at a meeting at which a quorum is present; but in the absence of a quorum a meeting may be recessed from time to time by consent of a majority of the Trustees present, without notice other than by announcement at the meeting.

Section 2.5 ORGANIZATION OF MEETINGS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Chair of the Board of Trustees shall preside at all meetings thereof.
