ABOUT THE EAP

The Cultural Center Early Arrival Program (EAP) was created to help assist under-represented students participating in the Cultural Center retention programs with their transition from high school to college. Through an enriching series of discussions, events and networking activities the program aims to teach students to be an active and engaged student at the University of Louisville. The Early Arrival Program starts on the first day of Welcome Week.

EARLY ARRIVAL PROGRAM FAQs

When and where should my scholar arrive to campus?

This year we are giving all scholars the opportunity to check into their residence hall before EAP Check-In. All scholars are asked to report to their assigned hall where they will be assisted with room keys and all things related to their new space.

May my scholar commute back and forth to campus for this program if he/she is not living in the residence halls?

Yes. Any scholar not living in UofL residence halls or properties may drive back and forth to campus each day. Parking directions will be provided for students who are in need of receiving such.

Will my scholar need money for food?

All participants of EAP will have a number of meals, snacks and beverages provided free of charge throughout the duration of the program.

What if my scholar is unable to attend any or all parts of EAP which is a highly encouraged event?

We certainly understand that there will be participation conflicts. As a result, we have developed a PC Participation Conflict Submission form. Scholars who are participating in Honors Modes of Inquiry, Athletics, Band Camp will receive all information distributed at EAP.
