

May 18th, 2011

Hello! I know that summer planning can be very stressful and traveling and changes in routines can create some difficulties. I hope the information from May's "Gearing up for Summer" was helpful!

This month's focus is "It's never too early to start planning - Guardianship and Financial Planning". We know as our children begin to grow up there are many financial aspects we need to focus on. Included in this month's packet are many great resources including: links to two fantastic webinars provided by Richard Bush that focus on Guardianship and Special Needs Trusts, Thinking about Guardianship provided by Protection and Advocacy, a quick tip sheet that overviews guardianship, the "Future Planning" chapter of the KATC Family Guide that gives a great overview of guardianship, estate planning, and establishing a trust for your child and a book list from the Amanda L. King Resource Center.

Additionally, I'm curious to get feedback about the new changes we've made; mailing all information out electronically and using Go To Meeting's to ask questions, review materials, etc. Please provide any feedback you have!

Lets keep our fingers crossed this rain subsides soon....I don't know about you guys but I am ready for sun and warm weather!!!

Respectfully,

Jennifer