

From the Office of Research & Graduate Studies

University of Louisville College of Education & Human Development – Winter 2018-19

Save the Dates!

Dissertation Writing Camp

January 26th,
February 2nd, &
February 9th
in the Porter
Education Building,
Rms 116 & 117
8:30a.m.-4:00p.m.

Congratulations to the Fall 2018 Doctoral Graduates!

Spring Research Conference

University of Kentucky
March 2nd, 2019
Gatton Student Center

EVPRI Publication Round-Up

It is that time of year again! EVPRI has begun its annual collection of publications to inform the Scorecard, U.S. News, and other reports.

Each college is asked to submit a list of 2018 publications by UofL faculty and students.

The Research Office will be asking each department for the following information: the full citation, the format of the publication and if it is refereed, co-author information, specifically whether co-authors are in the college, across campus, or UofL students.

Faculty members, please start putting together your 2018 list as department chairs will be collecting shortly after the New Year.

For more information contact Taylor Brown at tayloranne.brown@louisville.edu

Spring Research Conference 2019

The 2019 Spring Research Conference will be hosted by the University of Kentucky. The purpose of this annual conference is to provide undergraduate, masters, and doctoral students an opportunity to present research proposals in a friendly, yet formal setting and to get constructive feedback from faculty and colleagues. It is a great way to practice presenting and prepare for larger conferences.

- If you would like to learn more information or register, please visit:
<https://www.uky.edu/coe-src/main>
- Deadline to register and submit a proposal is January 31st, 2019

Spotlight: The Center for Economic Education

Jacob Gross, Ph.D., Director & Casey George, Ph.D., Assistant Director,

The mission of the Center for Economic Education is to address social, economic, and educational inequity by providing training about personal finance and studying the economics of education, especially postsecondary education. The Center strives to promote social mobility through personal finance and making college more affordable. The primary goal of the center is to promote social mobility through personal finance and educational attainment. Specific objectives include:

- Enhancing the knowledge and skills of personal finance for K-12 educators, college students, college administrators, and working adults;
- Conducting qualitative and quantitative research on topics pertaining to higher education finance and affordability;
- Facilitating workshops for employees in higher education on the topic of personal finance;
- Hosting an annual conference on personal finance and financial wellness for higher education administrators who work with college students;
- Explicitly connecting research to practice by using empirically-supported evidence to shape Center-developed initiatives

Congratulations to our fall 2018 Ph.D./Ed.D. Graduates!

Ph.D. Graduate: Ed.D. Graduates:

Jane Andris
Sebastian Barr
Ann James
Bethany Keller
Jeffrey Levine
John Mettill
Dylan Naeger
Tracy Richardson
Jonathan Watkins

Ronda George
Terra Greenwell
Carlisha Kent
Dawn Roseberry
Amanda Santos
De'Nay Speaks
Whitney Stewart

Find the 2018 CEHD Doctoral Programs Handbook
at the following link:
<https://louisville.edu/education/degrees/cehd-doctoral-handbook-18.pdf>

Check out the Office of Research's website
here: <http://louisville.edu/education/research>

Be on the lookout for exciting workshops and events in 2019 on our upcoming events tab!

Special thanks to Eric in the ERTC for his continued help with the website!

NVivo Users Group

The CEHD Office of Research and Graduate Studies hosts meetings of interested researchers who would like to learn more about this qualitative data analysis tool. Discussions are informal, and topics of interest are solicited in advance of each meeting. The group gathers as needed in ERTC Room 201C (2nd Floor Porter Building) where the desktops all have NVivo. The group now has a listserv that will be utilized for group communication, to ask questions, and stay connected.

If you would like to be added to the listserv group, please contact Taylor Brown (tayloranne.brown@louisville.edu)

Transcription Services

The Office of Research regularly receives inquiries from faculty and students about recommended vendors.

We have heard great reviews about Transcription Express! (www.transcriptiontyping.com) and Babbletype (<http://babbletype.com>)

Other recommended resources include:

RM Editing and Research Services (www.RMedit.com) and Landmark Associates Inc. (www.thelai.com).

If anyone has a transcription service to recommend please email (tayloranne.brown@louisville.edu) so we can share with those who are interested.

Check out the 2018 CEHD Research Highlights and the Cooperative Consortium for Transdisciplinary Social Justice Research Faculty Research Fellows on the Research Office website!
(<http://louisville.edu/education/research/research-resources>)

2019 Dissertation Writing Camp

The Research Office will host the Dissertation Writing Camp in the Porter Education Building early next Spring. This free event is held for doctoral students at any stage in the dissertation process. These writing camps provide a dedicated time and a quiet place for students to write and come together with other doctoral students in the dissertation process.

We request that you commit to attend all three consecutive Saturdays, and you must reply to Taylor if you wish to participate:

January 26th, February 2nd, and February 9th of 2019

Rooms 116 & 117 (8:30 am -4:00 pm)

To RSVP for this event contact Taylor Brown at tayloranne.brown@louisville.edu with answers to the following questions:

- Do you plan to attend all 3 Saturdays?
- Do you have the ability to provide your own laptop?