

Statement of Solidarity

The Faculty Senate of the University of Louisville recognizes that systemic racism exists at the University of Louisville and throughout our society. We believe that faculty must be active in ensuring meaningful change on our campus for students, staff, and fellow faculty members. As faculty, we occupy spaces of privilege and influence. We have the opportunity and responsibility to lead our campus in acknowledging and identifying the policies, practices, and behaviors that reinforce inequality, particularly those that harm African Americans and other people of color. This statement represents our commitment, on behalf of the faculty of the University of Louisville, to dedicate ourselves to dismantling systems of oppression on our campus.
