

NOTICE REGARDING THE UOFL GET HEALTHY NOW WELLNESS PROGRAM

The University of Louisville Get Healthy Now employee wellness program is a voluntary wellness program available to all employees. The program is administered according to federal rules permitting employer-sponsored wellness programs that seek to improve employee health or prevent disease, including the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008, and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, as applicable, among others. If you choose to participate in the wellness program you will be asked to complete a voluntary health risk assessment or "HRA" that asks a series of questions about your health-related activities and behaviors and whether you have or had certain medical conditions (e.g., cancer, diabetes, or heart disease). You will also have the opportunity to complete a biometric screening, which will include a blood test for total cholesterol, LDL, HDL, triglycerides, and glucose. You are not required to complete the HRA or to participate in the blood test or other medical examinations.

However, employees who choose to participate in the wellness program will receive an incentive of $40 per month for completing the HRA, achieving an Overall Wellness Score of 67 or above or by participating in various GHN Wellness Activities including Health Coaching. Although you are not required to complete the HRA or participate in the various GHN activities, only employees and retirees (on the UofL health plan) who do so will receive the $40 monthly premium discount.

Additional incentives [t-shirt, salad shaker, etc.] may be available for employees who participate in certain health-related activities [Get Healthy Now monthly wellness challenges and/or events]. If you are unable to participate in any of the health-related activities, you may be entitled to a reasonable accommodation or an alternative standard. You may request a reasonable accommodation or an alternative standard by contacting Get Healthy Now Central Administration at (502) 852-1907 or via email ghn@louisville.edu

The information from your HRA will be used to provide you with information to help you understand your current health and potential risks, and may also be used to offer you services through the wellness program, such as fitness, weight management, healthy eating, stress management, and tobacco cessation initiatives that may be offered. You also are encouraged to share your results or concerns with your own doctor.
