Fall 2015 Scholar Travel Seminar

Lots of students and professors attended the Honors Scholar Showcase.

The University Honors Program is happy to announce the travel seminar for Fall 2015, Dr. Michael Williams' "Tolkien in Print & Film." At the end of the fall semester, seminar participants will travel to New Zealand to explore Middle Earth! All current Honors students, who will have earned 24 hours or more (at UofL) by the end of the spring semester, are eligible to apply for a travel seminar. The applications are now available online:

<http://louisville.edu/honors/current-students/honors-travel-seminars/fall-2015-overseers-international-seminar>

A selection committee will review application materials and make decisions in March. All selected students will be notified via e-mail prior to this semester's priority registration date, March 31.

J.R.R. TOLKIEN IN PRINT & FILM (HON 336-01/HON 346-01)

High on almost every list of favorite 20th century novels are J.R.R. Tolkien's Middle Earth stories, The Hobbit and The Lord of the Rings. A rare body of work that enjoys both critical and popular acclaim, it has captivated three generations of readers, and Peter Jackson's retelling of the saga has only broadened its wide appeal. In these books and films, ancient legend meets the 20th century temperament, resulting in a modern mythology that speaks to our historical moment and also to each of us individually. This course will examine the four most renowned of Tolkien's books—The Hobbit and the Lord of the Rings trilogy—from a number of perspectives: historical, mythical, and aesthetic. We will continue our study by focusing on the relation of the Jackson films to the Tolkien books, exploring primarily the questions of adapting this iconic narrative to another medium. The class will culminate, of course, in New Zealand, where we will visit a number of the principal film sites and embark on a Middle Earth quest of our own. This WR course will fulfill requirements in the Humanities or Social Sciences.

Travel Seminar Criteria

Admission to the travel seminars is usually competitive. Generally, the following guidelines are utilized in the selection process:

- Answers to the questions posed on the application are an important part of the selection process. Please answer them carefully!
- Students must have completed a minimum of 24 college credit hours at the University of Louisville before the semester of the seminar.
- Students must have an overall GPA of at least 3.35 at the time of travel.
- Students must be currently active members of the Honors Program.
- Students having made significant progress towards designation as a University Honors Scholar will have priority (all else being equal).
- A student's major/minor will not generally have a bearing on selection.

HONORS NEWS

Honors Advising

THE HONORS ADVISING CAMPAIGN IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER!

The frigid arrival of the Spring 2015 semester has many of us hoping that Punxsutawney Phil will foresee the early arrival of warmer weather. While we anticipate the groundhog's prediction on Feb. 2, as well as the start of Honors advising appointments, let's go ahead and get some very important dates on your calendar right now so that you're ready for the upcoming Honors advising campaign! We have some very important appointment scheduling procedural information to share with you, so please pay careful attention to the following set of instructions as some things have changed with the advising appointment system since last semester.

The Honors Advising Window:

- Advising appointments - Feb. 2 – March 27 (excluding Spring Break week of March 16-20)
- Walk-In Advising – March 30 & 31, 8:30-11:30AM, 1-4PM (last-minute concerns only – must have already attended an Honors campaign advising appointment)
- Priority Registration – 8AM on March 31

The Honors Advising Team (in alpha order)*:

- Kirsten Armstrong
- Luke Buckman
- Katherine Rucker
- Sarah Gierke Springer

*Please note that Ketti Tonnemacher will not be available for this Honors advising campaign because she is currently out of the office on parental leave.

We would also like to welcome a few additional members on our advising team who will be assisting with freshman advising this semester:

- Sarah Exner
- Olivia Sailor
- Heather Turner

The Procedure:

- Honors Scholars – will receive the GradesFirst campaign e-mail (this will look like it's coming from Kirsten Armstrong) around 7:45AM on Tues., Jan. 27 in their UofL e-mail accounts.
- All Honors students – will receive the GradesFirst campaign e-mail from Kirsten Armstrong around 7:45AM on Wed., Jan. 28 in their UofL e-mail accounts.
- Once you receive your e-mail from GradesFirst/Kirsten Armstrong - Please follow the link and sign up online for an Honors advising appointment within GradesFirst .
- You may choose an Honors advisor on GradesFirst – although many of you may have assigned Honors advisors, you do not have to stick with your assigned advisor if you wish to see someone else. Of course, this is all subject to appointment availabilities for each advisor at the time that you log in.

No Longer Active in Honors:

- If you have been suspended from the Honors Program, you should have received an e-mail to this effect earlier this semester. In the event that you are no longer a member of the Honors Program, you should seek out advising from your home academic advising unit instead.
- For anyone who is no longer a member of the Honors Program, we recommend that you visit the Undergraduate Advising website to determine who your current academic advisor is here: <https://louisville.edu/advising/centers>
- If you wish to make an appointment with an Honors counselor, please contact or stop by the Etscorn Honors Center no earlier than Monday, Feb. 2 and consult with our front desk team about scheduling an appointment. You will not receive the GradesFirst appointment campaign e-mail from us if you are no longer active in the Honors Program, but we want to help you to connect with the appropriate advising professional(s) to meet your needs.

We hope that this information is helpful, and we are looking forward to meeting with each of you this semester! Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns about the Honors advising appointment sign-up procedures by contacting us via phone at 502-852-6293, via e-mail at honors@louisville.edu, or by contacting your Honors advisor directly.

HON 101 Assistant/CAPS Leader Opportunity

Honors is excited to announce that the applications are live for HON 101 Assistant/CAPS Leaders! If you are interested in working for Honors as an assistant in HON 101 next fall, the applications are up on the Honors homepage: <https://louisville.edu/honors/Enrichment-opportunities/hon-101-assistant-caps-mentor>.

Applications are due Feb. 13 by Noon. Note: In Honors, if you are hired as an HON 101 Assistant, then you are also hired as a CAPS Leader for a section of HON 101 or CAMP 100. If you are interested in applying to be a CAPS Leader through the Office of First Year Initiatives, you can apply there as well. Students can apply for both positions.

If you have any questions, please contact Luke Buckman in Honors at luke.buckman@louisville.edu.

Call for Proposals – National Honors Conference

The National Collegiate Honors Council (NCHC) proposal deadline is February 19, 2015. This year's conference will take place in Chicago, November 11-15, 2015. To submit a proposal, you must be presenting at or have presented at either the Kentucky Honors Roundtable (KHR) or the Southern Regional Honors Council (SRHC) during this current academic year.

NCHC is seeking student proposals in any of the following areas:

Idea Exchange / Roundtable Discussions / Student Poster Session / Student Interdisciplinary Research Panel

To find out more about any of these areas, you are strongly encouraged to visit the NCHC website: <http://nchchonors.org/annual-conference/>. There are details provided for each of the categories. If you'd like to submit a conference proposal, please follow the guidelines available on the NCHC website and send your proposal to Luke Buckman (luke.buckman@louisville.edu) by no later than midnight on Feb. 19. Luke will review and submit the final proposal online. To review proposal guidelines, please visit <http://nchchonors.org/annual-conference/proposal-guidelines/>. The national conference is an outstanding opportunity to present your research, ideas, or work as part of a student group in front of a national audience of honors faculty & staff members, as well as your peers at other honors programs and colleges. For more general information on the conference, please check the conference website or consult your academic advisor.
