HONORS UPDATES

A huge welcome is in order for the newest edition of the Honors family! Honors advisor Ketti Tonnemacher delivered her healthy baby girl, Attia (ah-tia) Fable Foco, on December 30, 2014. She was 6lb. and 19.5 inches long. Congratulations Ketti and we hope you enjoy your parental leave!

Honors Advisor Email Update

Congratulations are also in order for Honors advisor Sarah Gierke, who recently got married and is now Sarah Springer! Because of her last name change, her work email has also changed. Her new email is slgier01@louisville.edu. Please contact her if you have any questions about the liberal studies program, the senior honors thesis, or any Honors question!

How did you spend your Winter Break?
Dr. John Hale, recently featured in a “Faculty Focus” spotlight, spent some time catching waves off the coast of Hawaii.

HONORS NEWS

Honors Advising

THE HONORS ADVISING CAMPAIGN IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER!

The frigid arrival of the Spring 2015 semester has many of us hoping that Punxsutawney Phil will foresee the early arrival of warmer weather. While we anticipate the groundhog's prediction on Feb. 2, as well as the start of Honors advising appointments, let's go ahead and get some very important dates on your calendar right now so that you're ready for the upcoming Honors advising campaign! We have some very important appointment scheduling procedural information to share with you, so please pay careful attention to the following set of instructions as some things have changed with the advising appointment system since last semester.

The Honors Advising Window:

- Advising appointments - Feb. 2 – March 27 (excluding Spring Break week of March 16-20)
- Walk-In Advising – March 30 & 31, 8:30-11:30AM, 1-4PM (last-minute concerns only – must have already attended an Honors campaign advising appointment)
- Priority Registration – 8AM on March 31

The Honors Advising Team (in alpha order)*:

- Kirsten Armstrong
- Luke Buckman
- Katherine Rucker
- Sarah Gierke Springer

*Please note that Ketti Tonnemacher will not be available for this Honors advising campaign because she is currently out of the office on parental leave.

We would also like to welcome a few additional members on our advising team who will be assisting with freshman advising this semester:

- Sarah Exner
- Olivia Sailor
- Heather Turner

The Procedure:

- Honors Scholars – will receive the GradesFirst campaign e-mail (this will look like it's coming from Kirsten Armstrong) around 7:45AM on Tues., Jan. 27 in their UofL e-mail accounts.
- All Honors students – will receive the GradesFirst campaign e-mail from Kirsten Armstrong around 7:45AM on Wed., Jan. 28 in their UofL e-mail accounts.
- Once you receive your e-mail from GradesFirst/Kirsten Armstrong - Please follow the link and sign up online for an Honors advising appointment within GradesFirst .
- You may choose an Honors advisor on GradesFirst – although many of you may have assigned Honors advisors, you do not have to stick with your assigned advisor if you wish to see someone else. Of course, this is all subject to appointment availabilities for each advisor at the time that you log in.

No Longer Active in Honors:

- If you have been suspended from the Honors Program, you should have received an e-mail to this effect earlier this semester. In the event that you are no longer a member of the Honors Program, you should seek out advising from your home academic advising unit instead.
- For anyone who is no longer a member of the Honors Program, we recommend that you visit the Undergraduate Advising website to determine who your current academic advisor is here: <https://louisville.edu/advising/centers>
- If you wish to make an appointment with an Honors counselor, please contact or stop by the Etscorn Honors Center no earlier than Monday, Feb. 2 and consult with our front desk team about scheduling an appointment. You will not receive the GradesFirst appointment campaign e-mail from us if you are no longer active in the Honors Program, but we want to help you to connect with the appropriate advising professional(s) to meet your needs.

We hope that this information is helpful, and we are looking forward to meeting with each of you this semester! Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns about the Honors advising appointment sign-up procedures by contacting us via phone at 502-852-6293, via e-mail at honors@louisville.edu, or by contacting your Honors advisor directly.

Honors Peer Advisor Positions

Are you interested in working for Honors next summer as an orientation peer advisor? Do you want to help mentor next year's incoming freshmen class and help them create an academic plan for fall 2015? Peer advisors will be trained to help next year's incoming Honors freshmen class as they develop an academic plan and schedule courses during summer orientation. This is an outstanding opportunity for Honors students to learn more about the University, discuss their experiences in the University Honors Program with interested new students and parents, and earn some money along the way. Students will be expected to work approximately 15-20 hours each week from mid-May through the end of June 2015.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Both the Summer Research Opportunity Program (SROP) and Summer Term II classes may conflict with the required work schedule for a Peer Advisor. Please take this into consideration when applying for the Peer Advisor position. Additionally, if you are planning a summer travel abroad experience, you will want to check with Honors to determine if potential conflicts will prevent you from participating as a peer advisor. Applications are due at 4:00 PM on January 16, 2015. In order to apply you must have completed at least 30 hours (by the end of the spring 2015 semester) and have a 3.35 or higher cumulative GPA. To apply, please visit <http://louisville.edu/honors/Enrichment-opportunities/honors-peer-advising-1>

Current/Transfer Student Applications

Are You or Do You Know Someone Who is Interested in Joining the University Honors Program?

The University Honors Program is currently accepting applications from qualified UofL students and new incoming transfer students who are interested in participating in the program starting in Spring 2015.

Interested students should visit the University Honors Program website at <http://louisville.edu/honors> and click on the "Prospective Students" link for more information about the minimum qualifications to apply and a description of the potential benefits of joining the program. The application can be completed online at the following link: <http://louisville.edu/honors/prospective-students/application-for-transfer-current-students>. The deadline for current UofL and new incoming transfer students to apply to Honors is Monday, Jan. 19, 2015.

Call for Honors Conference Proposals!

Deadline = Friday, January 23, 2015 at 4:30pm

You must participate in the KHR conference in order to present at SRHC, or have presented at KHR during a previous semester. If you have not presented at KHR previously, and you plan to submit a proposal for both KHR and SRHC, please note the different requirements for SRHC:

1. Name and email of presenter(s)
2. Title of presentation
3. Brief summary to be included in the conference program schedule (max of 30 words)
4. Full synopsis for conference submission (max of 100 words)
5. Presentation format options:
 - 10-15 min. podium presentation
 - 50 min. research panel presentation (min. two presenters)
 - Research poster presentation
 - Performance pieces (max of 6 min.—short film, musical performance, visual art display)
6. Equipment needed: PowerPoint, other computer applications, Internet access needs, film capabilities, speakers, easel, laptop, projector, etc.

Email your proposals by January 23rd to kirsten.armstrong@louisville.edu

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Attention STEM students! Consider applying for the Whitaker International Program!

The Whitaker International Program sends emerging leaders in U.S. biomedical engineering (or bioengineering) overseas to undertake a self-designed project that will enhance their careers within the field. The goal of the program is to assist the development of professional leaders who are not only superb scientists, but who also will advance the profession through an international outlook. Along with supporting grant projects in an academic setting, the Whitaker International Program encourages grantees to engage in policy work and propose projects in an industry setting.

Deadlines are quickly approaching! The Whitaker International Fellows and Scholars program competition deadline is January 20th and the deadline for the Summer Grants Program is February 3rd.

There will be approximately 50 grants available to high-quality candidates for the Fellows and Scholars program and close to 20 for the Summer program.

For more information on all Whitaker International Program - including profiles of past grantees, host institutions, as well as the online application - visit our website at: www.whitaker.org

Attention all undergrads! [All disciplines, all levels]

National Deadline: March 4th, 2015

Calling All Sophomore and Junior STEM Students!

Consider the Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship [For Research-focused students in the STEM disciplines]

The Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship funds the undergraduate study of college students who intend to pursue careers as high-level scientists, researchers, mathematicians, and engineers. This prestigious award opens many doors for its winners. Sophomores and juniors with an established record or research in their field and a high GPA should consider applying.

For more information see: <http://www.act.org/goldwater/index.html>

National deadline: January 23, 2015.

Attention Freshman and Sophomores: US-UK Summer Fulbright NOW OPEN!

The US-UK Fulbright Commission offers special Summer Institutes for US citizens to come to the UK. These summer programs provide the opportunity for US undergraduates (aged over 18), with at least two years of undergraduate study left to complete, to come to the UK on a three, four, five or six week academic and cultural summer program.

Participants in these programs will get the opportunity to experience an exciting academic program at a highly regarded UK University, explore the culture, heritage and history of the UK and develop their academic ability by improving presentation, research and communication skills.

There are nine Summer Programs available for US students in 2015! For more information, please visit: <http://www.fulbright.org.uk/fulbright-awards/exchanges-to-the-uk/undergraduates>

Applications are due: February 26th or March 5th

Attention students interested in a Foreign Service Career—consider applying for the Pickering!

You can apply online now for the 2015 Thomas R. Pickering Undergraduate Foreign Affairs & Graduate Foreign Affairs Fellowships competition! The Pickering Fellowships help talented students -- highly motivated and academically excellent graduating seniors or college graduates -- who want to pursue a Foreign Service career in the U.S. Department of State. The Pickering programs have been administered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, one of the United States' top fellowship providers, for more than 20 years.

Deadlines are quickly approaching! The Graduate Fellowship Application Deadline is January 16th, and the Undergraduate Fellowship deadline is January 23rd.

For more information, see: <http://woodrow.org/fellowships/pickering>

If you are interested in applying for any of these scholarships, please contact Heather Turner to set up a meeting with Dr. Condon. You can reach Heather at heather.turner@louisville.edu or at 502.852.1515.

HONORS STUDENT COUNCIL

Honors Volunteer Program

The Honors Volunteer Program is having a community meeting this Thursday January 15th. Meetings take place from 12:20 to 12:50 in the Etscorn classroom (TH 132). It will be the first meeting of the semester, and they will be talking about a number of upcoming events for the semester. Free hot drinks and snacks will be provided!

Also, this Saturday, January 17th will be their first event of the semester; they are going to Iroquois Library to participate in the English Conversation Club. The English Conversation Club is a weekly program designed to improve the language skills of Louisville's immigrant population through exercises and worksheets designed to improve understanding and execution of the English language. Participants vary in their English ability, from learning basis words to grammar exercises, and no previous language training is required. If anyone is interested in attending, they can contact Luke Buckman at luke.buckman@louisville.edu or Honors Volunteer Program chair Danielle Deal at dndeal01@louisville.edu.

*Keep on the lookout for more spring 2015 Honors Student Council events in the upcoming issues of The Current!

MLK Week

MLK Winter Accessories Collection Drive Kickoff

Monday, January 12, 2015, Cultural Center, 9am-5pm

Join the Cultural Center in collecting new or gently used winter accessory items. This includes scarfs, gloves/mittens, hats, thermal undergarments (new preferred). All donations to benefit the House of Ruth.

“Illustrations of the Dream Within”

Tuesday, January 13, 2015, University Club, 6-8pm

An art display will feature the work of high school students from the Louisville Central Community Center. The young artists’ artwork will be related to the life, legacy, impact and dream of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Each artist will be recognized during the event. Reception to include music from University of Louisville School of Music alum Allison Cross and refreshments.

MLK Movie Viewing: Selma

Wednesday, January 14, 2015, Location: TBD, Time: TBA

Although the Civil Rights Act of 1964 legally desegregated the South, discrimination was still rampant in certain areas, making it very difficult for blacks to register to vote. In 1965, an Alabama city became the battleground in the fight for suffrage. Despite violent opposition, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. (David Oyelowo) and his followers pressed forward on an epic march from Selma to Montgomery, and their efforts culminated in President Lyndon Johnson signing the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Co-sponsored by the Woodford R. Porter Scholars.

“Fostering a Stronger Community in Louisville: Where Do We Go from Here” Panel Discussion

Thursday, January 15, 2015, Cultural Center Multipurpose Room, 12-1:30pm

In 1967, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., isolated himself from the demands of the civil rights movement, rented a house in Jamaica with no telephone, and labored over his final manuscript. In this prophetic work, which has been unavailable for more than ten years, he lays out his thoughts, plans, and dreams for America’s future, including the need for better jobs, higher wages, decent housing, and quality education. Join UofL faculty, students, and local civic leaders for a conversation on how we can work together, utilizing ideals MLK set forth in his final manuscript, to build a stronger community and to address issues vexing the city of Louisville. Light refreshments will be served.

MLK Dream Wall

Friday, January 16, 2015, Cultural Center MPR, 11am-2pm

Students, faculty and staff are invited to view and or contribute to the “MLK Dream Wall”. Participants can express (write, paint, draw, etc.) how Dr. King’s dream has impacted their lives or write their own dream and add them to the wall. Snacks provided.

University of Louisville MLK Day of Service

Monday, January 19, 2015, 9:30am-4:00pm

Student Activities Center MPR & Various Locations

The Office of Student Involvement in partnership with the Cultural Center and the Engage Lead Serve Board will present MLK Day of Service on January 19, 2015. Transportation to and from the service sites will be provided, as well as lunch. Walk-ins may be accommodated depending on site availability. If you’d like more information, please contact Brittany Barnes at 852.3754 or email bnbarn02@louisville.edu.

MLK Day of Service

What: MLK Day of Service

When: Monday, January 19th @ 10am -2:30p

Where: UofL SAC MPR

Why: MLK Day of Service is an American tradition, since 1994. You are encouraged to become part of the UofL community in making it a “day on”, not a “day off”. The event includes a kick-off luncheon, guest speaker, and multiple service opportunities at various sites across the city of Louisville. Transportation to and from the service sites will be provided. Register online: <http://louisville.edu/studentactivities/service-opportunities/mlk-day-of-service>

Ali Scholars Program

The Muhammad Ali Scholars Program applications are due on January 30! The program specializes in social justice research, while allowing students to develop leadership skills. They encourage full time sophomores and juniors to apply to the program. Applications are available on the Ali institute website www.louisville.edu/aliinstitute and at the offices (Ekstrom Library Rm 280).

The Muhammad Ali Institute for Peace and Justice proudly announces the

Ali Scholars Program

A unique 2-year scholarship program combining leadership training, research and service in the areas of

- violence prevention
- peacemaking
- social justice

The Ali Scholars employ a practical solution-based approach to conduct research on their “expert area,” evaluate successful social justice programs locally and globally, and gain hands-on experience in the local community.

Program students are expected to emerge with values-based, equity-centered leadership skills and a scholarship project impacting their home communities, and ultimately their nations and the world.

The Muhammad Ali Institute invites full-time sophomores and juniors at the University of Louisville to apply.

Application forms are available on the Ali Institute website www.louisville.edu/aliinstitute and at the offices (Ekstrom Library Rm 280) on December 1, 2014.

A.C.E.S

The University of Louisville's A.C.E.S. KY: Black & Latino Student Symposium explores both scholarly and practical approaches to systemic issues of access and student success for Black and Latinos within educational systems. The event will be held Thursday, February 26, 2015 at the University of Louisville's Swain Student Activities Center in Louisville, Kentucky as a pre-conference event to the National Black Family Conference to be held February 26th-28th at the Crown Plaza Hotel.

As a partner with the University's Project Progress: 1965, a five year exploration of the last half decade of America's Civil Rights years (1963-1968), the symposium will explore the issues that lead to the need for the Higher Education Act of 1965 and what progress has been made to improve Black and Latino students' access to and success within institutions of higher education from 1965 to present.

We seek proposals for paper and poster presentations, interactive workshops, or colloquia, for 75-minute concurrent sessions. We are particularly interested in instructional and program models, theoretical developments, and empirical research that address how education has influenced the human condition over the past 50 years.

- o Academic challenges that impact student success
- o Cultural Awareness and identity formation through academic and co-curricular experiences
- o Engagement theory, concepts, and strategies of Black and Latino students within and outside of the classroom
- o Social Justice movements, at the micro and macro levels, that impact educational attainment.

Deadline to submit your proposal is January 16, 2015

Submit Proposal to <http://uofl.me/as-aces-15>

Student Success Seminars

Based on the First Year Initiatives 2014-15 Book-in-Common, This I Believe, the REACH Student Success Seminars this year will help you think critically about what you believe it takes to be a successful college student. Each seminar will not only have you rethink the beliefs and assumptions you hold regarding the strategies you currently use, but also about new strategies you have yet to use.

The following seminars are offered online for Spring 2015:

- Meeting the Challenge of Time
- Becoming Savvy with Textbooks
- Studying Smarter
- Becoming a Disciplined Student
- Acing the Test
- Taking Effective Notes

Online Seminars are offered through the REACH Online Student Success Seminar Blackboard Module. To request access to the Online Student Success Seminars visit <http://reach.louisville.edu/seminars/success.html> and click on the Online Seminar Request Form. Requests typically take 24 hours to process. Requests submitted on weekends will be processed on the next business day.
