REMINDERS

REGISTRATION OPENED TODAY!

Priority registration opened to Honors students around 8:00 AM this morning. If you have not registered for courses already, we highly encourage you to do so. Remember, if you had any trouble registering, or still need help with your schedule Honors has walk-in advising all week!

THIS WEEK IN HONORS

BAMS BAKE SALE

TODAY • 10:00 AM - 1:00 PM • HUMANITIES QUAD

Honors Student Council is hosting a bake sale, and today is the last day! Grab a sweet treat on your lunch break and get the even sweeter feeling of helping a great cause. Come out to the Humanities Quad and donate what you can in exchange for some great desserts. All proceeds will be added to the Camp Quality Kentuckiana donation Honors Student Council has been building all year. There are plenty of treats left over from the first day of the sale yesterday, including cookies, iced pretzels, fudge, and muffins. With so many options we're sure you'll find something you like. So come out to the quad, help Camp Quality Kentuckiana, and help your growling stomach!

WALK-IN ADVISING

DAILY THIS WEEK

8:30-11:30 AM & 1:00-4:00 PM

ETSCORN HONORS CENTER

Still need help with your schedule? Have advising questions you need answered? Honors has walk-in advising every day this week with advisors on hand to help you. Please note, however, that walk-in advising often has longer wait times. We ask that you come with plenty of time available to wait just in case.

BAMS PREVIEW NIGHT

SUNDAY, APRIL 2 • 5:00 PM

RED BARN • $5 STUDENT ENTRY

Want first pick of items at the Book and Media Sale? This is your chance! Honors Student Council is opening the doors Sunday night to all the eager bibliophiles out there. Entry on preview night is $5.00 for students, $10.00 general admission with all proceeds contributing to the fundraiser for Camp Quality Kentuckiana. Regular sale hours start Monday with free admission. Learn more through the Facebook event:
