REMINDER

MAKE YOUR HONORS ADVISING APPOINTMENT

If you have not done so already, don't forget to schedule your Honors advising appointment for this semester via the link sent to you by Kirsten Armstrong last week! Remember: you can't sign up for Spring Honors courses if you don't attend an Honors advising appointment!

THIS WEEK IN HONORS

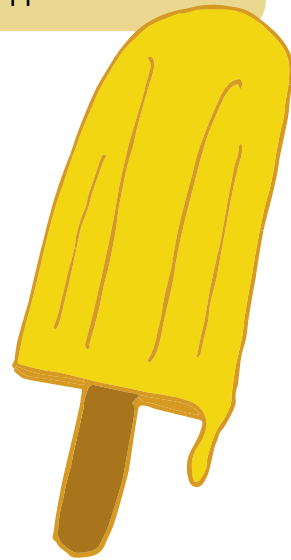

SPRING 2017 TRAVEL SEMINAR APPLICATION IS UP! DEADLINE: FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21 • LOUISVILLE.EDU/HONORS

The application for the Spring 2016 Woodcock National Travel Seminar, A Musical Atlas of Appalachia, is now available on our website! This course will be taught by Dr. Jack Ashworth on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the Spring. Don't miss your chance to learn more about music from the American Southeast and visit sites around the region as a class! To access the criteria for this course and apply, follow this link: <http://bit.ly/2c6nHAA>

NEXT WEEK: POPS WITH PROFESSORS

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23 • 12:00 PM • ETSCORN HONORS CENTER

Join Honors Student Council for their annual faculty student meet and greet event! It is a great opportunity to catch up with Honors professors you know, mingle with faculty you've never met, and hang out with fellow Honors students. HSC will provide popsicles from Steel City Pops, and chicken from Raising Cane's. Good food and good company!

NEXT WEEK: BILBO BAGELS

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22 • 11:00 AM
ETSCORN HONORS CENTER

One bagel ring for all,
In honors you can find them,
One bagel ring for all,

And use cream cheese to bind them.

Join Honors Student Council on Hobbit Day for some precious treats in honor of Bilbo & Frodo Baggins' birthdays. Elevenses will begin promptly at 11:00 AM. Celebrate the Baggins' birthdays with bagels. No need to burgle. The bagels are free!
