

Some of Your Courses Are Offered Online This Spring

Engaged Asynchronous Courses

The most flexible and preferred format for online study.

Register now through the normal registration process to enroll in asynchronous online courses.

HOW IT WORKS:

- Log into the course through your school's website
- Watch video lectures and complete assignments weekly on your own schedule
- Join your classmates and your professor in discussion forums
- Utilize live, online office hours with your professor
- Collaborate and receive feedback on class assignments
- Take your final exam on-line (and consistent with your school's exam policy)

Offering you flexibility in your studies, these online courses provide you with a full range of interactivity through course collaboration, virtual office hours, and more. Assessments throughout the course ensure that course goals and learning outcomes are achieved.

Plus, you'll receive a comprehensive orientation to ensure your comfort with the technology used, and all courses come with 24/7 IT support.

Healthcare Compliance Professor Mary Crossley

3 credits

Healthcare Compliance provides an understanding of the complexities of the healthcare compliance process from practical, business, and legal perspectives. Students will become familiar with the components of an effective compliance plan and program as well as the issues that arise in the implementation and administration of a compliance plan. Discover the many roles the compliance staff fulfill in encouraging compliance with laws, regulations, and ethical principles, and gain familiarity with some of the more significant issues that arise when allegations of noncompliance come to the attention of the federal and state governments.

International Sales & Commercial Arbitration Professor Jack Graves

3 credits

International Sales and Commercial Arbitration provides an overview of the law governing international sales of goods and international commercial arbitration, focusing primarily on the U.N. Convention on the International Sale of Goods, the UNCITRAL Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration, and the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards.

Sports Law Professor Gene Marsh

3 credits

Sports Law considers issues in both intercollegiate and professional sports with an emphasis on constitutional law; tort and criminal law; antitrust, labor law, and other issues of law in the field of sports, such as considerations of Title IX, drug testing, violence, and the role of agents.
