

New Series

China Studies: International Outlook

海外華人學者中國研究文叢

City University of Hong Kong Press (CityU Press) is pleased to announce the launch of the China Studies: International Outlook series. This series will publish original scholarly work undertaken by professionals and academics based outside mainland China. We will accept both monographs and edited volumes in the social sciences on topics related to China. Each title in this series will offer a new perspective or new research in some of the areas outlined below.

Focus Themes

CityU Press welcomes book proposals especially in the following areas:

- Chinese culture
- Globalization
- Chinese society in transition
- The media and its impact
- Foreign relations
- Literature and the arts
- Law and the legal system
- Economy
- History
- Women and gender

Target Audience

All books in this series will be published in English or Chinese and marketed globally. It is envisaged that this series will become an indispensable source of reference for scholars, researchers, research centres and think tanks interested in developments in China and views on China from the Chinese diaspora.

Series Editors

Professor LI Guoqing — University Libraries; Adjunct Professor of the Department of East Asian Languages & Literatures, Graduate School, The Ohio State University
