

University of Louisville Children's Thinking and Learning Study

Children ages 3-12 are invited to participate in research on how children of different ages think about information, people, and objects.

Participation involves:

- One session lasting 30 minutes or less
- Convenient scheduling: daytime, evenings, or weekends
- Free parking next to the building on the Belknap campus
- A fun play area for younger siblings

Children will:

- Play fun games with a friendly researcher
- Receive prizes, including books, t-shirts, and passes to the Planetarium
- Know that they were part of an important research project
