

Aart Hendriks
Professor of Health Law
Leiden University, Netherlands

Aart Hendriks is Professor of Health Law at Leiden University, chair of the Complaints' Committee for General Physicians (Western Netherlands), member of the board of supervisors of Erasmus Medical Centre (Rotterdam) and Zaan Medical Centre (Zaandam), and substitute judge at the District Court of Rotterdam. He is also an advisor to various governmental and non-governmental organisations, both nationally and internationally, and editor of several academic journals. He obtained his Ph.D.-degree from Amsterdam University on a dissertation concerning the right of persons with disabilities to equal access in the employment market.

Professor Hendriks has written extensively on such issues as human rights, minority rights, patients' rights and non-discrimination law. He lectures at such institutes as the European Law Academy (Trier, Germany), the Raoul Wallenberg Institute for Human and Humanitarian Rights Law (Lund, Sweden) and Copenhagen University/the Danish Institute for Human Rights.

END OF DOCUMENT