1. RAD Program - Rape Aggression Defense course. COSW (commission of the status of women) has offered to pay some of the costs to help provide the course. This course is to teach women how to defend against an abduction. 90% of the course is lecture in safety and there are some hands on techniques to use. Looking to offer new classes, they are posted in UofL Today. You can also contact them to see about a group class. Typically it has been 3 days for 9 hours total. They have been doing 3 days a week from 5-8pm in the past but that is negotiable. They are currently looking for a female wanting to be trained in the RAD program and to assist in teaching, can be faculty staff, even students. Police experience is not necessary.
2. Police officer vacancies – 3 openings, 1 @ Dental, HSC and Belknap each. Possibly another 3 leaving. LMPD pays better so we are losing some to that. Looking into starting a recruiting class. We have 2 out on long term illness still. They are going to look into hour shifts to have crossover time to cover the Northwest Corner more which a hotspot for issues.
3. Sergeant promotion – this will free up a patrol position that they will attempt to fill with a minority or female.
4. December Escorts – escort drivers shuttled 793 and police officers 103. They moved a total of 1140 people. They are looking into providing more foot escorts also.
5. Criminal incidents – drug deal went sour, both non-students. One lived in the dorms with his girlfriend who is the student. Both dealer and non-student victim. Ernst Hall – the stabbing was more a small cut that the victim found later after going home following the attack. They are looking into more cameras but they are $23000 a year to maintain and cost is about $4500 per camera. They noted that most incidents are the students bringing the issues to campus, inviting drug dealers, allowing non students to stay, etc.
6. Emergency phones – need updated from 3G to 4G to continue support, these are for the cell lines and will cost about $1000 per line. Looking into eliminating the land line ones also, upkeep is costly on those also. They are never used due to everyone having cell phones so antiquated. Maybe push the Rave Guardian instead.
