11/11 Provost Search Committee Meeting with Provost Candidate 1

This past month saw a lot of progress in the Provost Search. The candidates are visiting campus, keep an eye out for the links to those meetings shared via UofL today and by OCM. I hope as many of you as possible got to attend the open session for the first candidate yesterday. Also the budget workgroups continue to work actively as we look at evolving the budget in this coming year and those in the future, as we deal with the financial headwinds heading towards higher education.

The Commission on Climate, Culture and Wellbeing kicked off its work this week. I am hoping by next month we'll be able to start sharing some of the work coming out of that group and perhaps have the chairs of that committee in and talk to the Senate.

Lastly, I hope everyone was able to get enrolled, we'll have the VPHR in today talking to us a bit about the final numbers from that extended open enrollment. I know there was a lot of work put in by staff and admin alike to ensure the word got out to as many people as we could about the importance of this.
