

The DR. M. CELESTE NICHOLS AWARD Application/U of L Women's Center

THE DR. M. CELESTE NICHOLS AWARD is named in honor of M. Celeste Nichols, the first African American to receive a Ph.D. from the University of Louisville's Department of English. She graduated in 1992 with a Doctor of Philosophy in Rhetoric and Composition. Graduate students at U of L are invited to apply for the award – up to $500—that will support academic and professional enrichment beyond normal graduate program expenses. The award(s) will be presented at the annual Elizabeth Cady Stanton Luncheon held in November. (Specific date to be announced) See award's criteria and guidelines on separate page.
