

Women's Center Update
March 18, 2020

Hello Cardinals!

Our student groups are currently working on updates and ways to stay connected with members. Below are responses from two of our student groups. For many students, we know our groups serve as a home away from home, a support network, and family. We want to keep this going so stay tuned for more information from these groups. You can always reach out the groups via email or other forms of communication individual groups have set up. There will be leadership opportunities that will be available for all of the groups with elections so definitely consider applying.
